It depends on what you did with the rat
It varies from 1 to 20 years max in jail.

It depends on in you do anything fraudulent with the rat. Just using it? Ain't shit.

Really depends on how many people you infect and what you did with the infected computers.

What would be done with the RAT? Are you scraping credentials and selling them? Mining with the end PCs? Using them to click links in the background? As part of a DDoS?

Varies depending on your usage of RATs and the botnet you create.

All depends on what you do and why but you can get a lot of time

618C - March 23, 2021, 5:24 am

it doesn't really depends on how many clients you have, it depends on the Country and state where you are living in. There are different laws everywhere in regards to cyber crimes...

hope this answers your question

Well considering what the intentions for RATs on HF are. Depending on how many PCs you infected and/or what you did with said PCs.
