Thread: [\[AUTOPILOT\] Silent XMR Miner FREE](#)

D3vata - April 2, 2021, 7:56 pm

Hello Everyone, This is a silent miner i found coded by some guy that looks like he knows what he's doing.

Seems to be functioning with my pool, so try it out if you'd like.

The free version doesnt offer many features, other than stability. But, with enough slaves this can rack in some serious coin.

My question is 2 fold.

1. How is this autopilot, legit none of this is uaotpilot. They will get killed by anti-viruses without a crypter and updated stubs and you have to spread yourself.
2. Why would you do that 1% dev fee, which while not sounding to bad. Is shit due to how easy it is to make it so it stops when taskmanager is opend.

Nice try, although it is understandable for a builder to be detected as malicious, it doesn't make sense as to why its detected as a keylogger or NANOCORE Imfao. Also, why would a builder need to drop files as such to the roaming folder? When you use builders you normally chose where it outputs the file too... also why does the builder connect to 3 different IP addresses?
185.156.175.43:54782?

Would love for you to give some good answers on this, especially as the builder exe doesn't have the regular windows 10 exe icon, and why you are posting something that I am fairly certain has already been shared here?

He didn't even changed the default cert. name.

Signature Algorithm:

Issuer: CN=Quasar Server CA

Subject: CN=Quasar Server CA

funny.

CARE THIS IS A BACKDOOR.
