Thread: April- \$80k Altcoin portfolio - V2 2021

Hiper - April 2, 2021, 9:14 pm

So last time i shared my 2020 journey however it was only a $10k portfolio.

Today I decided to up the stakes and share my slightly bigger portfolio that I am running for period of 1-6 months depending on market circumstances.

These picks are based on what I believe will succeed and gain market dominance over BTC.

I will keep a log of any sells and buys to keep everyone in the loop of this experiment

Eth - 15%
Cro - 14%

1inch is a decentralised exchange that gives your best price across all exchange. Like an aggregate.

I did think about ltc but for some reason that coin never worked out for me and I tend to stay away from coins that don't make me money. I either didn't hold it at the right time or sold it too early. So now I just make money on other coins instead. Probably more psychological than anything else.

Eth will definitely explode and a safe bet but definitely won't get the best returns. I may dilute it later in the month if and when I see good service ups.

1inch is bound to follow uni and sushi. It's just primed for a huge 2-5x pump

I'm thinking 1inch listing on coinbase is inevitable easily 200-500%+ gains. 1inch is great in itself so a listing just a addon.

100% agreed cro looks like it could be a power house in the coming years.

Very hard to say for certain of course as nothing in life is guaranteed but it's definitely a good bet.

I didn't trade much at all in March as I felt burnt out after an exhausting Jan and Feb, a lot of sleepless nights.

However I kinda wish I went all in to Hot and BTT lol 10x in a month on both of these congrats to anyone who held these two and Dent

I do like Solana but risk reward on that token at the moment is a bit high. Cro is my 6 months hold token so if I was to add solana I would only consider it on a big dip. Otherwise I will look at tokens that have bigger growth potentials.

Not to say Solana might not go another 10x from here but I don't like buying local tops. Hopefully that makes sense.

I've changed up my strategy for next 2 weeks and have taken profit out of dot.

I've also reduced my risk on dot to 10k only which is about 10% now.

I have move my portfolio across multiple coins as I feel we are about to go into final stage of alt cycle.

It's too hard to time each pump so my strategy will be to take profit out of each coin that pumps and re invest into things that haven't pumped yet.

This should reduce my portfolio size within next 2 weeks to a month, providing that's where we headed.
