This does not require a .edu email, you can use your own GMail account.

Thank you for the information

The text has the method in it, I figured it would be easier just to upload that rather than PM everyone to give them the method.

Edited out of respect but still.

(Apr 9, 2021 06:18 PM)mfw Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) This is a ploy for bytes as the text file only says

"!!!!FREE UNLIMITED GOOGLE SHARED DRIVE!!!

1. Goto -
2. Fill out the form and captcha
3. Check your shared drives and it should be there"

No one waste your bytes.

It wasn't a ploy, I did it like that to prevent leeching but you do you.

I fully understand that's why the feature was implemented but don't claim free when that's an, admittedly small, paywall of bytes.

I never did it for the bytes honestly, I just stumbled upon the link and thought I'd share it.

Yeah no I get you, I'm not trying to con anyone, I just didn't want to deal with leachers or having to PM everyone who posted. Especially since I don't get on HF all the time.

Offer something free and it's bound to happen. Kind of an accepted chore of being nice :L

Yeah, I feel ya. I just noticed the new feature when I came back to HF and thought it was a nice feature and convenient.

It was implemented within the last few weeks. If that long at all. There was a stir when someone suggested it and everyone who said it was a good idea on the suggestion got banned by omni. A week later he announces it <.<

Just use Bytes to download the text file, I'm too lazy to DM everyone with the method.
