Thread: From -\$25k cc debt to \$0 cc debt <3months.

Lavish Living - April 11, 2021, 7:11 pm

So tbt to Jan 6th 2021, when I lost a lil too much and then lost more.

At the peak I was in about $25k cc debt. Drained my roth ira. Sold my groups. Sad days...

Fast forward to March, cc debt free and lots of extra cash to my name. Flew out to Vegas and lost $8k, spent another $2k on that trip as well. Got to meet Omni for the first time too.

Then I dropped $5k to revive Gamblers, which is dead af still. Smh. Shouldn't have revived it, bunch of ungrateful nongambling bitches in that group. Zzz

Then I've lost around $3k gambling in April. 100% [mention=4227846] fault. But aye, we're still cc debt free and chilling. Life's good. I'm content (even after almost 20k has been lost/spent these past few weeks). Taking a lil break from gambling though. And I hope to god I never gamble using ccs ever, ever again.

I accept the fact that I'll never be 100% gambling free in my life. Just gotta try to be a little smarter and more responsible. We shall see.

From now until June I'll be pretty busy anyways, grinding two irl jobs... so ideally I won't even have much time to gamble. But the desire is there kinda sorta, again all because of [mention=4227846] zzz. Kappa Living Lavish. ???

Over $120k gambled away from 01/01/2020 - 04/11/2021. But we aight ?? my $40k annual salary be keeping me afloat!!

u?op ?pisdn - April 12, 2021, 12:04 pm

I always wonder how people that spend money like you earn their money, would you mind opening up on that?

Chief - April 12, 2021, 12:36 pm

Congratulations Lavish. Scrub is a massive disser and I can see how he has caused all these problems for you. [mention=4227846]

Congrats on the recovery, man. Good to see you slowly getting back to your feet.

Fortunate - April 12, 2021, 2:18 pm

Damn this is crazy, gambling with credit is totally not worth it at all and you probably learned the lesson.

Very cool to see though, congrats on the recovery. Hope you don't fall back in the rabbit hole ever again.

Why doesn't it surprise me that you have the intelligence of a sloth? ?

Yeah I am really flexing fake cc debt. Kappa.

I don't know why I'd lie about credit card debt ??? but I'm pretty open about my finances, I have dropped pics of my personal capital / mint dashboards in my group chats before. Those are a little less easy to edit/manipulate since they pull all the transactions directly from banks... obv can be photoshopped tho.

OP should delete this thread ASAP if he can. I can only see it going downhill from here. Congrats on gambling your way into and back out of debt, OP. Genius.

I concur. Just report the OP and hope a mod deletes it for him

Grim - April 12, 2021, 3:13 pm

CC debt is the fucking worst dude i had a friend who killed himself because him and his wife were in so much debt. They were paying like $600 a day at one point in interest charges alone. Its not joke man im really glad you made it back out of that Great to hear that you got out of debt!

I stopped gambling myself a year ago as it was getting out of hand and started stacking too

Aeowulf - April 12, 2021, 4:29 pm

Great work getting back above water. Chill out on the gambling a bit though. Good luck.

When you're busy you don't have time to gamble, so grind grind grind!

Gambling is more of a boredom issue for me than anything.

the desire will always be there, you will always have the same thought, "lemme gamble some $$$, deffo gonna win this time"

Congrats on recovering. good thing you'll be at work. I'm too scared to gamble. I lost $700 my first time trying and it wasn't even my money. I should've just cashed out but didn't know I could at the time. ?????

DanielZ - May 22, 2021, 10:23 pm
