They're getting a follow. That art style is fantastic.

That's amazing. It reminds me of the cover art used in Tokyo Ghoul. Thanks for sharing!

Damn that's really good, I love the emotion in the drawing. Sadly I don't fuck with instagram or I'd support the OG

Letting everyone know that the artist is currently working on a new AOT illustration which will be turned into prints

Goku - March 21, 2022, 6:59 am

Looks very nice tho!

Just need a lot of practice and dedication! She has been drawling religiously daily as a full time thing. She's not very business minded so she never turned it into something profitable and is currently without a job, so I decided to help her sell prints as I'm sure she'll do well.

She's currently working on a new print for Shingeki No Kyojin and we'll go on from there :)

But yeah, practice and knowledge is everything when it comes to art. Talent yeah sure but no one started out as a good artist.

Learning anatomy, shading, lighting etc will make the difference.

Yea true! I'm trying to inspire my lil sis to draw.

Unfortunately, I've never used my childhood time to learn this well, even though I loved drawing as a kid.

Now that I'm older, I'm a front-end webdev and designer, pretty happy with my job.

So, I will use this opportunity to let my lil sis learn this skill and when she becomes good at it, I'll pay her to make logo designs for my client :)

When I was a kid, I thought, that being an artist (especially drawing art) wouldn't guarantee a steady income. I had these thoughts because I was raised in a poor family, and of course being able to provide for your family is a pretty important thing to do. So, my lil sis doesn't have to stress about this anymore :D

Wish you both the best in your business and creations!
