Thread: My first experince of exchanging here. Was scammed by HF member Danskeren

Serhio - April 24, 2021, 2:34 pm

Good day, everyone. I'd like to share my first experience of exchanging here. Unfortunately, I was scammed by HF member Danskeren. I'm writing this post to warn you, do not deal with him.

He wrote to me first offering 76% for my $105 total amount Amazon Gift Cards (I left messages in threads dedicated to exchanging). Then we had a conversation (you can read it on screenshots I added). I started a contract and Danskeren asked for codes. Then he put me in ignore list and that's it. Of course, he redeemed my gift cards right away.

Contract is denied. I definitely wasn't expecting something like that from a member with good rating numbers.

I hope my experience will help you not to get scammed.

P.S. I can't download screenshots here so here's a link - <https://imgur.com/a/LfKfJdb>

Do you have a contract OP?

Serhio - April 24, 2021, 2:42 pm

The contract was denied after Danskeren got my Amazon GC codes.

omg this dumbass tried taking my reddit accounts...

Aeowulf - April 24, 2021, 4:04 pm

Seems he was also trying to scam another member out of money for a job. He ditched when the member asked for a middleman.

stickmann - April 24, 2021, 4:09 pm damn that sucks hf is the worst place to exchange for new users

ghostboy - April 24, 2021, 4:39 pm

The contract wasnt accepted, why would you send funds?

It was my first deal and I didn't know that he must accept the deal. We were having a conversation while I was filling the contract (on screenshots he "helps" me to fill the contract). The guy is targeting new users who clearly has no experience. And he's doing it in private messages so there's no traces of his actions.

I didn't even know there's a middleman, before a user from here told me (too bad it was after I got scammed).

Anyway, I'm glad my post already helped 1 new user.

well, that's when it went south. Next time make sure to not send any payment before the contract is accepted by the 2 sides.

I'm convinced us new members get targeted in a contract with someone for $150 still have yet to get the service. i mean he has solid evidence that guy is taking advantage of us new guys staff won't ban him unless it's a contract?

That's unfortunate, bro. Sadly there's many scammers here on HF.

I got scammed of 300$ BTC in 2014 here. So I know how it feels.

I don't think staff will intervene in situations like this, they rarely do. Next time make sure to accept the contract.

cokecaine - April 25, 2021, 3:15 am

Ouch. Sorry to hear that OP. Unfortunately without contract, staff won't do anything.

That's disgusting if they don't, seriously.

Even new members should use Contracts or read Help Docs to avoid being warned, banned or worse; scammed.

If you read the Help Docs, you see that "Staff won't get involved in deals".

If new members would be patient and secure when doing business, they would wait for a Contract to be accepted.. you don't work for your boss before you sign a Contract, do you?

I'm not blaming OP. I am just fed up seeing new members complain about scammers not being banned.

If they are banned, they make a new account and repeat the process. If you used a Contract properly you wouldn't be scammed and if so, you could leave a Negative B-Rating.

Was about to go on a deal with him but I saw this post so I immediately said if he wanna go first because of this thread just to be cautious. Well he accepted the contract I made but still I'm very hesitant so I ended up cancelling the contract

Forensic - April 25, 2021, 7:54 am

Even if he accepted the contract he still probably would have scammed you. Best thing to do in deals like this is bit by bit. He pays for 1 giftcard at a time basically to minimize potential scam/loss

Thanks everyone for your advice and support. I appreciate it.

Too bad negative B-rating is all I could do. I still would be in this situation, and it wouldn't have changed the fact I lost 105$ AGC.

Thanks for advice and support.
