I purchased flow crypter pro 7 for 3 months which was of 65 USD,
i waited a long time to get my crypter which was never provided. the owner rarely replied on discord.

i would like my money back as no services were ever provided/ used.

User is a scammer, has many disputes for the same reason. He is misrepresenting his 'service' as a product and a tool. He had no intention of ever sending you a tool, just keeping your $.

grainy - April 27, 2021, 1:47 am

He has 12 open disputes right now, nothing you can do but be more careful next time.

Regulus - April 27, 2021, 5:41 am

Oh boiii, here we go again lmao.

telly - April 27, 2021, 8:51 am

you should probably get your shit together tom instead of ripping off your customers

Vouch for this.

TheCrazyONE - April 27, 2021, 4:56 pm

Biggest fraud in HF, I hope one day karma will hit him hard.

I was scammed too, so sorry for your loss!

TOM - April 27, 2021, 9:59 pm

My Support team has reached out to you through discord for support to get this resolved :)

SUI-3183372 - April 27, 2021, 10:02 pm

TOM does not give refunds. He will continue to deliver broken or non-working products to you, ghost you for a week, and then repeat, for the next 3 months, all in order to ensure he doesn't have to refund you.

cokecaine - April 27, 2021, 10:03 pm

That sucks OP. Hope it gets resolved soon.

Your team is still not talking about delivering the tool so that i can use it myself, and 3 months of support. if it is not possible at your end you can return my money.

How could he still be allowed to sell on HF??

Disputes every weeks, and a huge part is closed because he asked the customer do to it, promising he will resolve the problem.

But he has absolutely nothing valuable to sell : no skills, no tools, no "team" behind his "products" and "services".

The only thing he is good at is lying, scamming, ghosting, ignoring.

And also promoting his threads, I admit.

Admins/forum staff do not get involved in these types of scenarios. It can be unfortunate when there is mass scamming such as this, but it is what it is. There is a reason that disputes are highlighted on profiles, and trust scans exist. It's always advised to do your research before purchasing from someone... a quick profile glance on TOM would show his shady business practices.

He has 13 open disputes that'd a red flag

Nobody is under any obligation to deal with him.

Look at the number of successfully completed contracts and compare it to the number of disputes.

While the number of disputes against him seems high, his dispute rate is actually rather low, less than 1%. I don't think staff view members with dispute rates that low as overly dangerous.

I'm not trying to defend TOM in fact I think he's a giant giant douchebag. However I don't think anything will happen to him when his trade volume is so high and his dispute % so low.

40 in the last year long period.

29 of them have been resolved.

11 still open (Not counting disputes he has opened himself).

So a little less than 1 dispute per month vs how many successful deals does he do in 1 month? He's had about 2400 contracts made (made, not accepted) in this year long period, and only 11 of them have resulted in disputes still open.

Not the greatest ratio, but I suppose that it does still display that he at least tries to resolve his disputes.

Don't get me wrong, I'd love to see him closed, I'm just trying to determine how staff justifies keeping him around.

He isn't scamming & resolves most disputes. A % Customers having issues with businesses or products is normal in any field.
