Thread: Coder to code a very simple tool \(Paying good\)

Flaxman - April 29, 2021, 7:52 am

Hi HF! I need a code to open 2 applications in the same folder. Both files will be in a sub-folder called "Resources" and in the parent folder there should be a tool to execute both these files inside the sub-folder.

Is there someone who can help me with this? If I place the coded program in the parent folder to run both of these files.

It should work on all pc's so if the path name is different like pc's user is guest instead of admin it should still work. (For example C:/User/Desktop and C:/Admin/Desktop

And it should also work if someone were to open this folder using winrar (or something else, in case the folder were zipped).

Please contact me via PM and leave me your contact info or just contact me via PM.

I could pay up to 15$ for this, if it works properly. It should be done within 24H latest.

Hey!

I'm a professional software developer. I'd be happy to help you get this one, but it would not be possible for $15 over a period of 24 hours. If you are open to a more fair budget and timeline, I'd be open to helping complete your goals.

Eager to hear from you!
