To be honest it used to be a shitcoin and as much as i hate shitcoins, we have to realize that doge is getting adopted just because of its popularity. You can use doge to place bets now so... already having real life use.

However doge 1k is purely BS based on its supply. My guess is, whales going to dump at 0.90-1$ mark.

You know nothing about crypto if you think Doge will hit $1k and your reasonings are nonsense. Close your shitty thread.

Circulating supply of dogecoin is 127 billion according to wikipedia, so for dogecoin to reach $1k a coin the marketcap should be 127 billion*1000 which is 127 trillion. Do you think that marketcap is possible?
