Thread: How do you feel about Elon Musk having so much influence over crypto?

So Elon now is pretty much playing with the markets. He tweets doge to the moon and it goes up, he says that tesla will stop using BTC it goes down.

Do you think that his attitude will tank cryptos in the short term?

It's funny how he "didn't know" about Bitcoin's environment effect, when media always spamming this FUD, prior to investing.

Do you think it really influences ONLY the cryptos market?

This is one of the few things he does, only with tweets he can change the global economy .. think about what he can do with the power he has (outside twitter)

It's actually annoying as shit that people even listen to that guy in regards to crypto.

Good thing is,in future no one will take this guy seriously ,if he shills any coin !

First he shilled TSLA..and then cryptos

Now TSLA will also tank as the Tesla Chinese numbers are not encouraging !

Too be fair.. crypto has nothing to do with Elon and no one was ever going to use BTC to purchase a depreciating asset (a car). This runs deeper than you guys believe.

His influence is over people not markets. Just like Steve Jobs with Apple fanatics.

I dismiss what he says or does and I am convinced he is trolling the people who worship him. He's an autistic fugg. genius or not doesn't matter.

People are sheep. They think Musk being rich means they must follow him so they can look smart too. Morons...

Tesla still has billions invested into bitcoin, with each tweet he's hurting his own company. I don't think he really cares because he can make it all back with just one tweet.
