Thread: Should have held my dogecoin haha

kuebiko - May 18, 2021, 2:46 pm

Was thinking about how I made a little bit off of the dogecoin craze and wondered how much I would have made if I'd held. Needless to say I made a mistake, haha. Whatever though. You win some, you lose some.

Artisan - May 18, 2021, 3:08 pm

Ouchie. Dont let it get you down. Try putting similar amounts on low priced alt coins (not shitcoins) that have low market cap and usability.

Crypto Q - May 18, 2021, 3:27 pm

Sorry to hear, good thing is lots of potential in lots of coins still. I believe you'll be able to re coup some of these losses with a diamond hand mentality. I use to own 150M dent and sold just a hair early as well. Best of luck for the future :)

Beherit - May 18, 2021, 7:42 pm

You win some, you lose some. Just like you said. Think about the next investment for the future.

ghostboy - May 18, 2021, 9:20 pm

Hey at least you didnt follow others into the red zone and then sell. Keep your head up you'll have brighter future for more investments

Yanix - May 18, 2021, 9:48 pm

Good luck on your crypto coin journey...I guess for now you should hold but always watch the trends.

Hoping you earn more in the coming days.

Looks like the market itself ain't doing so hot right now anyway. This might be a blessing for some.

Absolutely. I have always had bad luck with stocks and such. Who knows, it might dip lower ?

I'd shit. I want 1 BTC so bad, but I'd also shit again if it went that low because I am invested pretty high up !!

Market seems to be dipping just a bit every day this week. I think there will be more dips.

I guess your only option is to buy the dip, but the only question is, will it keep dipping? ?

I feel sorry for those who are recently investing for crypto...a surely loss for them :(

I've continued to buy the dip for last 4-5 days.

I'm here for it. I'm gonna get me a Tesla Model X so i'm in the game before the world completely changes before us :p

Indeed. Past few days' investments dip and then it keeps dipping today all through the morning. Stock market as well seems to be struggling.

Sounds like a plan. Good luck in those future endeavors, friend.

We've gotta watch carefully and hoping we get on time to have some investment when it's about to get more value again

I hope not, I think we will see it come back bigger and stronger than ever. Otherwise those who are waiting for that big day when it dips will miss out because it'll be to quick. FOMO

But it's really hard to predict when will be that big day again...hard to invest right now as well for we don't know when will this dip stops.

SIM-2552982 - May 19, 2021, 1:20 am

I've heard people say things like this many times, how they regret it etc. But it's not a mistake because you can't predict the future. Just think of it like a learning opportunity, don't buy & sell (investments but things in general) so often, try to save more.

The Pact - May 19, 2021, 1:31 am

It's funny to think that Elon Musk, messing with the market, so much is even legal, but I guess there isn't a law against precisely what he's doing? Not that I even know much about this stuff.

Geass - May 19, 2021, 2:55 am

I had dogecoin from years ago that I threw them. Still cryyying :''''(

A Nobody - May 19, 2021, 5:31 am

Can't live with the thought of profits that could have been. You made your decision at the time and didn't know what could have been.

funtela - May 19, 2021, 10:02 am

There's still lots of coins out there with potential :)

Haaks - May 19, 2021, 10:40 am

You should have sold it. But we cant see into the future sadly.

Proxies.tv - May 19, 2021, 11:40 am

I remember when doge first came out and mining it was very simple. I ended up with around 315,000 and held them about a year, saw no value in it, and eventually dumped them all. Not a terrible tragedy because at the time they were still worthless, and when the hype dies back down again they will still be worthless yet again. Regardless of what Musk is doing, doge will never have any real value in my opinion. Pump and dump is the only real future I see for this coin.

On sale is definitely an interesting way of putting it LOL.

Prettykitty - May 19, 2021, 3:41 pm

I got some for fun when it first started, surprised it's still around. Where do you exchange it?

iNviZ - May 19, 2021, 4:44 pm

I'm mad I didn't get to buy in today around 31k for BTC. Still spent 10k at around BTC price 35k at the hour. Already made a small profit but nothing compared to what my wallet looked like 10 days ago.

Edit- I'm more long term for about 5 coins.

I do enjoy messing with some alt coins.

If you wanna be smart, invest into realistic cryptos while the whole market dipped.
Now's the time you'll make the MOST money.. shits never been this low in a long time.
Talking ETC, LTC, BCH etc if u can't buy BTC or ETH
All coins follow Bitcoin so when that goes back up everything else will.
