Thread: i saved someone's dog today

HEISENPUG - May 19, 2021, 4:42 am i was out walking at around 2am in my neighborhood and was approached by a Pitbull on the street and literally scared the shit out of me. But i noticed he was starting to follow me and he seemed friendly and looked lost so i called police to see if maybe someone had lost they're dog and they could help so when the police showed up they took the dog in they're car and said i could go home now but when i was walking back i heard someone crying and shouting Valerie which i ran up and asked the lady if she was looking for a dog and she said yeah so i showed her where the police were with her dog and she started crying and thanked me and hugged me. Just glad the dog made it back ok and didn't get hurt.

A Nobody - May 19, 2021, 5:24 am

Pugs and pitties can be friends!

Good job though. Always great when you can help to make sure that an animal doesn't get hurt.

Robotsapian - May 19, 2021, 5:53 am

Sad story bro

im so so so so glad that the dog wasn't hurt

Goku - May 19, 2021, 6:05 am

Damn, that's sad. But gladly you're a good human being and the owner has reunited with his dog :D

shakur123 - May 19, 2021, 9:38 am

You sir just earn your entry to heaven, congrats!

funtela - May 19, 2021, 10:00 am

That was incredibly nice of you <3

Good man! Dogs are a little more scary when wandering alone, a group of dogs where my parents lived were loose and attacked their neighbors bloody. Good job though on getting ahold of someone rather than ignoring the situation!

Pug Life - May 19, 2021, 10:36 am

Very nice of you good job.

When i took walkies with my pugs i was always very cautious with loose dogs without an owner. It always warms my heart when people treating animals in the same way i do. <3 metamorphosis - May 19, 2021, 10:37 am

Love me a wholesome moment, this makes me less spiteful of humanity haha well done OP <3

Haaks - May 19, 2021, 10:38 am

Good job my man. Its always a good thing when you can help or save hurt animals :)

Proxies.tv - May 19, 2021, 11:25 am

You did the proper humanitarian thing. Most people walking through the hood at 2 am would just keep walking. But kudos to you for doing the right thing.

Bankrupt - May 19, 2021, 4:14 pm

this was so wholesome im glad you found the dogs owner, thats a nightmare situation especially with a pitbull with the way they have their stereotypes

Masoom - May 19, 2021, 4:42 pm

Very inspirational, nice job. I personally would've sat on top of a car as I called the police though; I'm not too good with handling dogs (never was).

Beherit - May 19, 2021, 5:10 pm

Wow, you're a keeper, fam. Good on you for that and hope many good things come your way :D

LoremIpsum - May 19, 2021, 5:12 pm

You are a good man. If he would have bitten someone (to defend himself) he would be shot dead like a pig.

I'm happy to hear the owner got reunited with her beloved pet!

Punk - May 19, 2021, 7:53 pm

Thats good honestly, hope it comes back to you as a blessing.

BigDawgAustin - May 20, 2021, 5:20 am

Thats Whats Up, Dogs From That Breed Are Often Looked At Different.

Nice Going :)

Yanix - May 20, 2021, 10:49 pm

You've got a good job for today...the owner must be very thankful and appreciate what you've done. Keep up the good work bro

You did a real good deed brother, you can be proud of yourself??

I'm sure that dog followed you because he felt you would help him?

Cool - May 21, 2021, 11:58 am

Your name has much more sense now, I'm into helping dogs too, lmk if you want to get into a project about it on PM <3.

TB12 - May 21, 2021, 12:37 pm

We need more people like you in this world

I don't see a lot of positive lately, so this is awesome. I'm sure she was really appreciative. To a lot of people, their pets are literally parts of their family. Good job.

man the dog owner is lucky you found him and you did the right thing.

Dogs get hit by cars all the time, and dogs get stolen a lot too!

youre someone's hero that day good job :)

There was a news release saying that the amount of dogs being stolen has gone up locally around here since covid came around. I guess there is a big market for them, crazy!!

yes!! also they kidnap your dog and ask ransom moneys for it!!

can you believe it, we should rename it to Dognapping since no one is gonna steal kids these days anymore ?

i would pay for my dog tho, no doubt in my mind!

I would pay for my dog too. I really wonder what's in people's minds that is going to make them want to steal a dog.

A dog is part of the family in my house. I'd assume it is in yours too if you're willing to pay for your dog ?? Haha

aye my dog is my friend for (his) life! Animals over peoples no doubt in my mind. i think a dog is really really "a men's best friend."

would love to work with them, or even better hunt with em! :)

Yes I agree with this. And they become more than family, your best friend. There are a lot more to animals than most people think.

If you have owned a dog or have been around a dog you know this. Their intelligence is really crazy i agree with you man, dogs are legends. Same goes for horses afaik because they have been around humans even longer than dogs.

Cant say anything about cats. im ok with em but not a huge fan ?

??? - June 24, 2021, 3:12 pm

Good job man, that's a great thing. Hope you have a great day.

bk randy - June 24, 2021, 3:19 pm

That's a good, hopefully she actually got the dog back tho, some states and cities have banned pitbulls :s
