short and simple, so many vouches but no contracts. all vouches seem to be multis, if someone can confirm with trust scan that can help my claim more.

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=6148635>

thread for an example ^

multiple vouches from new accounts, no posts, weird join date. no contracts at all.

thread hasn't been shut down yet.

While it may be possible, if you actually go to the users who posted, they do have a contract. E.g the first person: <https://hackforums.net/contracts.php?action=view&cid=273733> (Im assuming that's what its for but nonetheless I could be wrong since I can't see details and messages between them obviously)

They just didn't put the thread URL in the contract which is why it doesn't show in the post itself.

Edit: Latest IP Matching Other Members: 0

Could easily get around it via VPN/Proxy but nothing obvious from my quick research.

There's like 4-5 that have no contracts at all

If he was using the multi's on an rdp or something he could also create fake contracts. They're new, might be a mistake, or you could be right, who knows.

Definitely multis. He used to be called Ted Evelyn Mosby and during that time, he used to bump his threads with multis. Lookup his older threads.

I had an eye out on his threads and he seems to have a lot of 'ways to earn money' and some of his clients are fresh accounts but I guess its innocent until proven guilty.

I like to give people the benefit of the doubt but if that's the case, especially having most of the account brand new its definitely sketchy.

All Vouches in a thread must be from a valid Verified Contracted Customer related to the thread.

Thread was taken down for this reason

Even though i had all contracted customers

Thanks for wasting my time

I have actual earning proof and i am willing to provide my blockchain transaction id to verify the same

Just look around marketplace all marketplace threads have brand new accounts in contracts history

Example

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=6011899&page=142>

Look at this thread or

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5738583&page=212>

Almost everyone is a new user with almost 0 post count
it is same for every thread on marketplace

Damn what a suprise.. All ebooks that promise to make you money are completely fake and don't work. Every single one of them. Nobody will help you make money.

amy santiago is literally the scum of this forum. I would recommend avoiding all deals with them.
