Thread: Favorite sub-2010s video game?

Shutdwn - May 21, 2021, 2:01 pm

What's your favorite video game before 2010? I really think that era in gaming was so unique and funky, my favorite game was definitely Command and Conquer tiberian sun ?.

Let me get to know you through your vintage video game taste ?

TB12 - May 21, 2021, 2:27 pm

Halo 3 for sure and there really is no room for debate that pre 2010 games were better. Back then games were released finished and with minimal bugs. Also most DLC that was sold was actually worth it and actually provided additional quality content and not trash content that you should expect whatever game it is to already have.

Honestly, I'm torn. I've made plenty of memories in both eras of gaming.

I use to play games prior to 2010 alone, but everything after 2010 I played with friends and it became more enjoyable no matter how bad the game was lol

Probably not my all-time favourite but it's definitely up there. So many hours spent playing this as a kid.

Who remembers this gem?

I think games were more diverse, creative, and inventive before 2010. Most of my favorite games were released before 2010. Although, I would say that the pre-2010 era definitely has the advantage in time over just the last eleven years of game releases. My favorite game from before 2010 would probably be either The Secret of Monkey Island, Call of Duty: Modern Warfare 2, or Super Mario 64.

Killer instinct is by far my favorite game of all time

I was thinking Secret of Mana, Earthbound, Legend of Zelda: A Link To The Past, Ocarina of Time, and Majora's Mask.

Ratchet & Clank on the PS2 were the good ol' days.

tigmo - May 22, 2021, 12:42 am

The Gun and Tibia definately!

Lyrlei - May 22, 2021, 4:56 am

In terms of fun, there's definitely more fun on games after 2010, but there were some fond memories before 2010, mainly because most of the games you play aren't chosen by some platform, and you kind of just get them and try each one.

Pow3r - May 22, 2021, 7:42 am

I'll go super old school on you now. Megalomania, Rayman, Toejam and Earl, Mickeys castle of illusion... Most of you weren't close to being born I doubt hahaha.

Classic era for the win. Though I do like a bit of GTA.

X-32 - May 22, 2021, 12:27 pm

GTA San Andreas for sure.

I miss the good ol' sa-mp days.

I'm still surprised to see most of the votes going towards games before 2010.

The memories of the games we used to play are distorted and don't compare to today's games.

That's an impressive lineup you got there.

Most of my early games were on the Gameboy SP. Pokemon Fire Red, The Legacy of Goku, DBZ: Supersonic Warriors.
I think there was an Ed Edd n' Eddy game I had as well lol.
