obviously the first is the sex stream and the second is the game stream

test - May 21, 2021, 2:49 pm

I mean Twitch is no longer a purely gaming website since they added IRL, but yep, more dogshit choices by Twitch to add their own section. Especially when the site has a 13 year old age limit and I would bet most of their audience are under 18.

I think its pretty fucked up cause a lot of kids use it but at the end of the day the kids are stupid because they're the ones getting they're little dopamine hit off clicking a ass on a pixeled screen. PURE GENIUS.

Good ol' Twitch streams are evolving before our very eyes.

I was thinking of starting to stream on Twitch but I'm honestly considering just making YouTube videos and call it a day. Lesser of two evils, ya shfeel me.

Haha wtf, that's crazy. I guess it won't take long for the streamer to get banned though

What content are you thinking of creating?

1337GAMER - May 21, 2021, 3:13 pm

Twitch has ruined their platform by allowing such garbage whorish content. It takes away from the many skilled gamers, musicians, and artists in general.

These stupid hot tub stream sluts get so many horny people throwing money at them to sit around and literally offer zero content. It's pathetic but Twitch doesn't care because they're making bank off subs, bits, etc.

Oh no this is allowed on Twitch now as crazy as it sounds.

My girlfriend streams on Twitch and its insane how many kids ask her for a hottub stream & I'm talking KIDS, 13 - 15 year olds.

Oh wow nice, damn im kinda looking forward to that man. When do you plan on starting, have you got a list of games you thinking of?

TB12 - May 21, 2021, 3:32 pm

Not surprised, we got hot tub streams on Twitch

Different games for different genres, like Tekken 7, Red Dead Redemption, Battlefield 1, all of the Assassin Creed games except for Valhalla, Cyberpunk 2077, JRPGs.

Valorant, CS:Go, few other popular ones. I don't have a camera at the moment but I'll start with audio only.

Man, I would be interested to see you do a IRL stream. Would be cool

Yeah bro, I'll let you know.

(May 21, 2021 04:44 PM)Tsundere Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Honestly, I hear starting on YouTube and getting a following there, then moving to Twitch has been pretty good for some people.

When I stream on Twitch, I mostly get friends coming in more than random people. So if you are looking for a wider audience than just friends, YT might be better first.

Edit:

Twitch really made Hot Tubs into a category...

That seems to be the way these days I heard as well. I'll have to decide what to do with editing and what kind of content I'll go with.

I thought it was a joke but I guess it's not. More are on the way:

Also when you start streaming stream on twitch & on youtube and do NOT get the twitch affiliate program because it's a HUGE scam and if you take it you cannot stream on any other platform than twitch. By streaming on Twitch and Youtube at the same time you can see which one works out best for you and then focus on whatever platform you do the best on.
