I just love this. ? He dials right into their conference meeting. The balls on this guy!

What are your thoughts on this interaction? Shout out to Project Veritas!

Absolutely no fucks given. I love it

Beherit - May 23, 2021, 2:41 am

Ah, I heard about this but never saw the official video. What an absolute chad.

Aeowulf - May 23, 2021, 6:07 am

YO! This is the greatest. REAL journalism breaking down the snake oil salesmen!

Doesn't surprise me. There's hell a search engine filtering and preferences that Google/YT and friends have put in place to ensure that a lot controversial stuff surrounding US politics and anything "conspiracy related" such as this is automatically de-ranked or made non visible in a lot of search suggestions.

Aye! Aye! ?

After what I've seen the last few years of my life; I'd venture to say that they're one of the last true media journalism outlets that are left. It's scary times in America when you have to turn to independent platforms such as this to get the truth. What's equally terrifying is the amount of people who buy into every single thing they hear on CNN, Fox, Sky News, or MSNBC and then do not question a single thing.

It's okay to watch MNM outlets of course; I just think that people need to fact check the robots in media themselves and not rely on other robots to do it. ?

Yeah, thanks for making it public so I can subscribe to their channel ?

This is actual journalism. This is awesome! I had heard about him accessing CNN conferences secretly but I hadn't seen this video.

You have to dig for it. YouTube actively "deranks" their videos. Anything conspiratorial in the slightest is being silenced and ever since January 6th, this has become more prevalent imo.

That was certainly one of the goals! Glad you enjoyed the video. It's a constant battle for Project Veritas to be able to get positive online exposure because of the nature of their content and censorship guidelines unfortunately. But it is what it is!

CNN is straight leftist propaganda. I think anyone with half a brain doesn't actually take them seriously anymore.

Horribly enough, millions of people still do. :/
