Thread: Apex Sports Betting HONEST Review

I wouldn't recommend the whole service. The football guy is not rly any good, his tips are parlays of 3-4 1.12 odd matches, mostly Under 5.5 goals and the match insights are always like: "I don't think PSG will score more than 5 goals". The hit rate is not even close to 80%(I am talking about the football) and the guy has already been in a 4 loss streak while I was there, so that whole 15years, no more than 4 losses in a row is bullshit. The esports guy is really good, he gives meaningful insights and value tips. But still, why would you pay $45 per month for apex instead of going directly to the esports analyst's patreon, pay $20 per month and get much better results?

I am attaching a spreadsheet of the previous month football tipster's success using his tips (his odds and the bet amounts he recommends). His words are: "We finished the month with 103% profit from the invested amount" and that 103% profit is $15,8 from starting balance $250. Just a total joke!

Spreadsheet: I can't really post it because I am new to the profile but if you write me in private messages, I will send it to you.

Lmfao 1.12 odd matches.. how are you going to make money of that anyways

I can confirm OP words. This strategy just pure nonsense and it is not worth to subscribe to this service.

Just an UP to warn others of this service, whole month of losses basically, current L streak of 5!! Look their advertise, where they do promise of 80% win-rate!

Of course it is BS. A referee can decide a game. The idea you can predict something successfully where there are 999 variables per match is a complete joke. This is not a way to make money.
