Thread: Best way for a noob to learn e-whoring if he has \$3000 to spend?

Carmellan - May 27, 2021, 9:51 pm

I'm a complete noob in ewhoring and have some money to spend to learn the business. What would you do and what methods/tools would you buy if you had that money?

I've done some basic snapchat e-whoring a couple years ago. It was brief, but I know the basic concepts

If you're looking for a mentorship, i can help you but it will be paid. I will guide you in a way with exact traffic resources so you'll guaranteed start making at least $200/day.

Message me, I can refer you to someone who's selling a pretty good mentorship. It's not cheap though. Either way it's worth considering

I would recommend not buying any mentorships or ebooks. The most they will do is save you time because all the information they provide can be searched on this forum or easily learned in practice.

There are plenty of resources to learn this work from. If it's not the search function for this forum there are entire Discord servers dedicated to teaching people.

You'd be best to save the money to plan to buy a mentorship from and invest it into actually starting. Buy things like proxies, a burner phone, bots, even a pack of you wanted to save the time of making one. You have lots of options.
