Thread: SCAM LIST: Don't lose your money on these scam methods

Twilight - June 2, 2021, 9:36 am

First of all am writing this thread to uncover the truth whether some methods of scammer scripts are legit or not

So am writing this thread based on my small experience with such methods
i hope that you will not spend your money on these scams

1- FARMING SITES - Golden-farm, goldenfarm, golden-mines

The site requires you to make an initial deposit to acquire on-site currency that you are going to spend to get virtual items such as birds, mines, or anything else that doesn't have any real life value; every bought item will generate a specific amount of virtual money. The problem begins when people advertise this game as a the most honest making money, while if you read the Terms of Service you will find out that you can withdraw from 30% only of the money you spent, so at the end of the day you aren't going to make big profit.

For example: golden-farm.biz

Here you can sell eggs and get gold that is required for the real money withdrawal. The gold got after selling are divided between two of your accounts - gold coins (for purchases) and gold bars (for withdrawal) in proportion: 70% to the gold coins (account for purchases) and 30% to the gold bars (account for withdrawal).

so you can withdraw only 30% and to return only the money you invested it will take more than one year !

2- TELEGRAM - bots

Any Telegram bot that promises to make you earn profit just by clicking a button.
It's a pyramidal scam: the bot shows ads and as soon as you view enough of them, you are required to refer 10 people and then to buy a subscription.
The more people try the bot, the more people are referred, the higher is the chance of someone buying a subscription and the more money are scammed.

3- ADS - Viewing paid advertising sites, *money.xyz

Any service that has "Viewing payed advertising sites" in its title and requires you to solve captchas. There are some legitimate captcha solving sites that pay you a miserable amount of money, but there's plenty of scams as well.

All of these sites have the same page design and a similar URL (ending in .xyz, .club, .icu) so you can easily recognize them.

Once you sign up, you have to solve captchas and refer people in order to withdraw. Of course, you're never going to withdraw

These three methods has been shared recently in HF, correct if am wrong but i found such methods waste of time and money !

wish the best for you all guys.

fredo - June 3, 2021, 6:06 pm

Wasn't even hip about the telegram bots, I always wondered how the people making them profit

Xoid - June 3, 2021, 6:19 pm

Totally agree with the farming sites, absolute twaddle.

Twilight - June 4, 2021, 2:36 am

yeah and i wonder why people still say that these are making money methods but it's fake ! i hope that members don't fall again

Forensic - June 4, 2021, 4:10 am

People are just desperate and such methods seem plausible to a new or desperate person.

That's my case. I'm both new and desperate in all this kind of stuff. So far I invested only $14 on Golden-Farm, but I saw that crystals point system that is just.. i have no word for this. Just horrible scams.

It's unfortunate but at least you learned before you put more effort and time and money. ?

Try to be smarter out there next time! ?

Gregeta - June 4, 2021, 10:52 pm

Yes, nobody gives you anything if they don't earn at least as much from you.

Has anyone experience with Trappy's offer on this forum?
Unfortunately, it does not go into what it is ultimately about.

I guess we can see this as the most positive side of it. :/

Ain't really about being smart or not. I've seen many -fake- methods now, and lots of them were so well presented that you could think "nobody would put so much effort in something that doesn't work" - but yes, they would. I honestly am getting more and more desperate about money that I could easily try dozens of different methods at once.

(Jun 5, 2021 02:04 AM)Johansson Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) There's even more. They aim at desperate people with 10$-20$ investments promising millions. It still baffles me how one can trust such website to begin with, I guess we're all different breeds.

Personally, I'd never expect millions or tens of thousand in a week with only an investment of $20. For Golden-Farm, I must admit I'd maybe expect the investment to earn me a few hundreds over the months, and seeing how ""popular"" it was, I fell into it.

TwilighT - June 5, 2021, 11:53 am

believe me guys till now i didn't find a good promising method ! i think 99% are scams !

smaraspoz - November 30, 2021, 8:48 am crypt72562 - March 20, 2022, 6:56 am thanks for the list, pretty useful :)

thesoftwarepimp - March 22, 2022, 2:23 am

Thanks man, when you are starting off its always so easy to spend hours and hours following stuff you think will be your break through to earning a steady passive income, but nope...you lose time and dollars. I have been trying to earn online for the past 10 years now....never seen a method without a glitch right at the end and you make nothing. i have only ever really made a few dollars on porn site making and monetizing... with this i have managed a peak of 80 USD per month... sometimes that even falls down sharply. So good luck guys, but good luck is so hard to find. I wont mind sharing my method some day on this forum. This is a good post.

NikolaiBelinski - March 23, 2022, 2:15 pm

Yes! So much this! I stupidly bought so many methods or tried getting into groups to get a teaching and most of the time I could barely make my investment back.

trashy - February 4, 2023, 6:33 am

Everything that has something to do with surveys are usually scam too. And also referral links only goes to the people who share the link, you wont earn alot unless you share it too. Great share mate is always good to bump this

AfroSamurai - February 9, 2023, 11:28 am

Thanks for this post. Helps a lot!
