Thread: amy santiago \(uid: 824505\) selling leaked ebooks / lying about content

Angela White - June 3, 2021, 10:02 pm

This user had a deal dispute arise the other day which made me start looking into this user.

Here are a few reasons why I think they are potentially selling leaked / stolen guides.

Thread #1

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=6156370>

If you look at this user's thread design, you'll notice a few suspicious things.

1.) The thread design is horribly pixelated and the text at the top saying "Defining Simplicity and Effortless Earning" is in a weird spot where it looks like the header text above it was cut off, maybe the title of the eBook this thread design originally went to, and that he kept the subheader and just named his guide "Effortless Earning"?

Spoiler \(Click to View\)

If you don't think this is already looking like he stole the thread design to someone else's eBook product off-site, at the bottom of his thread design, you can see the eBook / seller's name of the guide is "WHAT IN THE BANK", but this user's guide is called "Effortless Earning".

Spoiler \(Click to View\)

Now, let's look at what this user promises in his thread design, versus what he actually says about his product. This either proves that he stole the thread design and is lying about all the things that are in his guide, or even if he didn't steal this thread design, that he's straight up lying about the contents of his eBook.

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=6156557&pid=60790170#pid60790170>

^ Here is the user saying that his eBook titled "EFFORTLESS EARNING - PASSIVE METHODS" isn't "magic" and that it "takes time to set up" and that people "just don't want to do anything" to make money. He also claims that his methods "take time to start working".

Spoiler \(Click to View\)

Let's back up a second and think about that. "Effortless Earning - Passive Methods, takes only 15 minutes to set up and then completely autopilot!" apparently now IS NOT effortless and that "you have to work for it", "takes time to start working", it's now a "long-term scheme", and it won't "get you rich quick". Let's note that his thread design says "No Refunds" for the Bronze package, but the user boasts in the thread title and to other users that "You will always be given a refund if you're unsuccessful".

Thread #2

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=6148546>

Now that we already know that this user steals his thread designs and makes false promises on his threads because his sales-pitch thread designs don't resemble his products, let's look at his other clearly stolen thread design where he literally just used Microsoft Paint to black-out the price of the thread this thread design went to, and just added his own prices that aren't even aligned properly.

Spoiler (Click to View)

You may have to turn up your screen brightness or tilt your head to see where he clearly just covered up someone else's prices. It's in the center of the image, a bit below where it says "Prices", in-between his two pricing tiers that he added with Paint.

I'd like to also point out that SentryMBA has been a dead program for years and no one uses it anymore. You can see the user below called him out for the same thing of selling a random guide he found on the Internet:

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=6148546&pid=60744609#pid60744609>

Here you can also see how his "cracking guide" works out for himself, because you see back-to-back reviews on his account shop service claiming that the logins don't work.

Spoiler (Click to View)

Thread #3

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=6150125>

Here, you can BLATENTLY see he just removed text & "features" from another thread design. Look at the awkward spacing and missing text and icons..

Like seriously, did he not think anyone would notice him missing entire sentences in the middle of a paragraph?

Spoiler (Click to View)

Thread #4

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=6147770>

OK, this one is HILARIOUS and speaks for itself. He didn't even try to make it look like it's his thread design.

Spoiler (Click to View)

So my question to amy santiago is, how can you promise that your eBooks contain all the knowledge you claim they contain, if your thread designs are for completely different products that aren't yours, unless you're just selling that same eBook you stole and are slapping your own name and price tag on it?

Some more information to prove my point that amy santiago is a fraud

Yep, thank you for posting a high-brightness version of the photo. Hope this makes it more obvious to everyone that this user stole the thread design and potentially the entire product from an off-site source.

cokecaine - June 3, 2021, 11:36 pm

Yikes. Thats a lot of proof. Best case scenario is that he bought resell rights to it though.

SIM-2327840 - June 4, 2021, 5:36 am

He is looking pretty fishy indeed. At the end of the day anyone with words like 'effortless' in their titles will screw the people that bought their sh*t anyways.

amy santiago is scum! Relentlessly scamming on the forums, and refusing to refund users until they close their disputes--only after it was brought to light that they were scamming and made into a big stink! I highly recommend to not do business with them, and to even avoid any type of communication. User is toxic.

Hopefully they do, but I don't think they will. Most we can do is spread awareness that they lie about their products.

I think the fact that they've remained silent for ~4 days now on this subject and have ignored this thread says everything.

He's making less than his eBooks promise, then bragged about it ??
