Vitani's Mate - June 5, 2021, 1:33 am

This past 2 weeks have been fucking hell for me..

Last weekend I had a bad cold that made me very sick all the way mid week around Thursday. Then yesterday I woke up with really bad pains lower right abdominal that put me in hospital yesterday and then today.

Today I found out I have a 4mm kidney stone.. So I am pretty much have to pass it through..

What a shithouse of a week man! =/

I'm a barber and I dislocated my shoulder.

4 weeks off already and probably gonna go through surgery

Feel you

Sadly I can't have surgery because the stone is too small for it.

So I have to pass it through by pissing..

This is going to be hell..

I just got over a surgery and had to beat pain med withdrawals, it was rough.

On the flip side I know you'll get through it it's all temporary.

Blockonome - June 5, 2021, 3:33 am

Sorry to hear about this brother, hopefully things will turn around soon enough, make sure to live the healthiest life you can!

A Nobody - June 5, 2021, 5:07 am

Kidney stones! Yiiiikes!!! Sorry to hear that, gonna be a real bitch to get through.

Vitani's Mate - June 5, 2021, 6:23 am

Yeah I am pretty damn tired, been up since 6am with pain lower right.

Without painkillers.. I'd be fucked!

Beherit - June 5, 2021, 6:25 am

Shit dude, I'm at that age where kidney stones can show up.

I'm hoping everything gets better for you and you don't have to suffer like this any longer :/

Masoom - June 5, 2021, 6:36 am

Wishing you well for a speedy recovery. I never knew that you could actually pee out a rock (google'd before posting).

I'm looking into things like CircleDNA as of recently. Maybe this could help you as well nCoXo - June 5, 2021, 6:51 am

So you will need to go under any surgery for this?

Vitani's Mate - June 10, 2021, 2:06 am

Just an update..

A couple of days ago it has gotten worse and I went back to hospital and then they said the stone lodged itself between bladder and kidney and caused an infection so I had surgery last night to calm down the infection and put in a stint thing so it helps me pass urine better.

All last night I had a tube going into my pisshole to my bladder so it gets rid of the puss and other shit from my body.

I am scheduled to have another operation to actually remove the stone in a week of two.

So lately... I've been though fucking hell.

Also my piss is red because of the blood from the tube that has been up there.

Fuck does the pain ever stop?????

You bro! I feel you! I and my girl both had a kidney stone and I know the pain.
For me the only thing that helps pains is Morphine. you can ask your doctor for it!

That stint thing is the worst part of it! I learn later on that you can refuse the sling thing cause it can cause more problems and pain with infection and just ask for laser surgery direkt!

Beer, green tea, and citrus fruits were the best thing for me! and don't smoke weed for a while! :)

They can't get rid of the stone till a week or two after because of the infection I had.

Sadly.. I have to wait and let the stint help me pass urine otherwise it can be a problem because the stone is blocking the way.

Blackhatzer - June 10, 2021, 5:27 am

I'm with you brother!

Pain is temporary, only death is permanent.

You'll get through this, stronger than before! Let's goo

Look into Chanca piedra for kidney stones. If it's the correct type, Chanca piedra can break down the stone and help you pass it more easily/break it down completely.

The - June 10, 2021, 12:07 pm

You'll get past this and be back to normal, don't worry.

Crypt - June 11, 2021, 6:41 pm

Been there man. Things are going fine and then you get like a string of bad luck. Just remember, it will pass.

Tando - June 11, 2021, 6:42 pm

Never had a kidney stone I heard they're a real pain! You'll get it over it soon and the pain will go away.
