Thread: Lounge Check In Posts Deleted -Everyday Ninja

This is the second time that I have noticed this. I check my goal awards almost daily so I know for a fact the my posts are just being deleted or there's a glitch in the system.

I had almost 50% done like 2 days ago when I checked and now it's at 12 and I know I've checked it plenty of times in the last 12 days.

What's going on?

You could simply try getting a life instead of worrying about forum awards

I bet you can do something more productive than checking to make sure your png's are still there could it be that your time is expiring, if your speaking about the 30 day lounge head award, every 30th day ago your posts are not longer counting towards the award

Yea, just figured if I'm gonna be here everyday and check in for the points I might as well do it every single day. But not anymore.

No, it's my everyday ninja award, it's actually at 3 days now though.

Looks like I may have just forgot to post on the 8th or something, idk.

Well I got it like half way done, and 25%+ done before that lol, oh well...

You likely forgot to post those days too.

Records show no posts deleted from this thread so you didn't post in it:

Yeah, it's tough. I'm on the site everyday and I still forget. I just stopped trying for now.
