So now that it's been proven that China covered up the origins of the virus, through lab whistleblowers (since the beginning) and now Fauci's e-mails with Peter Daszek confirming that they got scientists at The Lancet to sign off on research stating that the virus came from the wild which it didn't. Fauci is a lying c4ntface.

Also the Chinese military has totally blocked off access to the lab to any journalist, and the WHO takes orders from China because they're one of their biggest funders.

The evidence of PCR tests running false positives, hydroxychloroquine and ivermectin producing life-saving results being censored and having academic frauded research papers speak against its efficacy in order to sway the public into taking the vaccine.

Many many doctors speaking out against their patients bad side effects including strokes, hemorrhaging, myocarditis, etc.

The European council investigated and found that big pharmaceuticals in Europe persuaded the WHO into declaring a pandemic (where evidence was very minimal, and counter evidence was brought forth after) in order to get vaccines rolling out.

All papers in China that showed asymptomatic transmission was next to impossible were scrubbed offline and de-ranked by Google, because everything that runs counter to the narrative is deemed TOO DANGEROUS TO HEAR because then the money that the billionaires have made off of this pandemic take a knock.

It's unlikely that you've heard any of this since it's highly censored, but hey.

I'm not anti-vax I'm very PRO vax. I am a Biochemist major, still studying biochemistry so I know a thing or two about viruses as well as vaccines. Planning on becoming a doctor as well.

So you people really fucking believe big pharma totally doesn't have some financial interest in manipulating COVID data in order to make more $? Or do you follow THEIR bullshit debunked science like a good obedient person and never question anything, because questioning the gov and big pharma makes you a c0nSPiracY The0Rist lmao. ?

People really running around like a chicken with its head cut off over a virus with a 98.2% survival rating. They've been the ones Manipulated by the Corporations, Governments and The Media. They've literally watched their communities get destroyed in hopes to be rebuild the damage with what? Stimulus money? Unemployment handouts? Inflation?

This decade is breeding people who are scared of everything, can be easily manipulated and need their fucking safe spaces.?

That's exactly it, well put. People still come to defend these ideas that big pharma, corporations, the media and the government are infallible or something.

When people argued about this, they would mention that the CDC or WHO public officials SAID THIS, therefore it's true, only to have peer-reviewed research time and time again prove them WRONG but of course it gets censored on the internet. It's a fkn frawwwd

Any institution can have some medical company vouch for them to push politics with money as an incentive. I can't count how many times the CDC back stepped on its words during covid.

The one that pissed me off was when we had the BLM riots. All of a sudden the narrative changed and covid wasn't a big deal for like 3 weeks. They had "new research " the media flipped then it went back to being so terrible just after the riots.

Every one knows china is the culprit but waiting for solid proof to pin them on for a long time.

There was more proof before shit started disappearing off the web. Government/media was too busy shitting on trump than interested in any investigation.

They've been trying to make Trump look as bad as possible because they know he's good for the American people and bad for the elite.

Sorry never Trumpers, Trump has done more for the American people than any other president than any other besides Lincoln.

Couple mean tweets here and there suck it up he destroyed terrorist groups, brought back many jobs and was hard on big pharma and China.

Say what you will.
