

Forum:Hack Forums

Thread: Why do people like chipotle soo much

hayesh - June 13, 2021, 2:55 pm

In my town we finally got a chipotle about a few years ago. I hadn't eaten it until a few weeks ago. A buddy of mine and I went in and got a burrito and a small drink and it came out to a little over $9. The burrito was small and lackluster. I started thinking to myself Why the hell is this place so hyped, Qdoba is way better. At Qdoba you can get a two times bigger burrito a small drink and a fat chocolate chip cookie for 11 bucks. Not to mention the Qdoba burritos just in general tasted better to me. Anyone else feel the same?

A + - June 13, 2021, 3:32 pm

(Jun 13, 2021 02:55 PM)hayesh Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) In my town we finally got a chipotle about a few years ago. I hadn't eaten it until a few weeks ago. A buddy of mine and I went in and got a burrito and a small drink and it came out to a little over $9. The burrito was small and lackluster. I started thinking to myself Why the hell is this place so hyped, Qdoba is way better. At Qdoba you can get a two times bigger burrito a small drink and a fat chocolate chip cookie for 11 bucks. Not to mention the Qdoba burritos just in general tasted better to me. Anyone else feel the same?

It's probably just about location. Not everybody has a Chipotle, not everybody has a Qdoba. In general all Tex Mex places like that have a good word of mouth, I haven't personally tried Chipotle though.

?nxy - June 13, 2021, 4:31 pm

I don't know I prefer Taco Bell.

N - June 13, 2021, 4:50 pm

I had Chipotle like twice, it's alright. We have a lot better small owned spots that are way better.

[$(5)$] - June 13, 2021, 4:55 pm

I personally like Qdoba better than Chipotle. Chipotle is ok, just not the best.

TB12 - June 13, 2021, 6:28 pm

I've had it a couple times, it's good but nothing special

Jake Johnson - June 13, 2021, 7:34 pm

I don't mind chipotle but it definitely is not my favorite. It's good but yet it's nothing amazing to make me want to have it all the time.

I personally prefer going to small locally owned places that have the same type of food. Most of the time the food is 10x better at these places and even cheaper. Plus I'm supporting locally owned businesses which I always love to do.

Deany - June 13, 2021, 7:38 pm

(Jun 13, 2021 02:55 PM)hayesh Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) In my town we finally got a chipotle about a few years ago. I hadn't eaten it until a few weeks ago. A buddy of mine and I went in and got a burrito and a small drink and it came out to a little over $9. The burrito was small and lackluster. I started thinking to myself Why the hell is this place so hyped, Qdoba is way better. At Qdoba you can get a two times bigger burrito a small drink and a fat chocolate chip cookie for 11 bucks. Not to mention the Qdoba burritos just in general tasted better to me. Anyone else feel the same?

Idk it tastes good and is walking distance from me so that why lol

The - June 13, 2021, 7:41 pm

It's a matter of preference, like all things.

I, myself, don't like it.

Chinatown - June 13, 2021, 7:41 pm

I've had it three times. from 2 different locations in Tampa. It's not my flavor profile I guess. I'm down for Taco Bell before Chipotle honestly.

Charger - June 13, 2021, 7:52 pm

Chipotle is ok. I've never been like "oh let's go get chipotle".

Crypt - June 22, 2021, 6:36 pm

Chipotle isn't the best, I have had better Mexican style food elsewhere.

A Nobody - June 22, 2021, 6:39 pm

I'd pick Taco Bell every time

neightworks. - June 22, 2021, 7:59 pm

Qdoba is so much more fire but they all disappeared from around us.

Chipotle is only good if you dip your burrito in their Honey Vinaigrette.

AiDenti - June 22, 2021, 9:34 pm

I like chipotle because it's pretty healthy and the ingredients are quality. Taste is okay.

Bob White - June 22, 2021, 9:40 pm

I like Chipolte, I just like Qdoba better.

Grim - June 22, 2021, 9:57 pm

I actually agree with you but there isn't always a Qdoba near me and usually there is a chipotle. And I'd still take that over something like Taco Bell

618C - June 23, 2021, 1:14 am both of the franchises arent in my country so i cant really give my opinion on this :) but i guess people stick to what they know.

wasnt chipotle one of the first in some states? that should make sense hazbot77 - June 23, 2021, 1:45 am

(Jun 13, 2021 04:31 PM)Viper The Rapper Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I don't know I prefer Taco Bell.

After eating tacobell:

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=WCFvqbSfgqM>

Crypt - June 23, 2021, 11:14 pm

(Jun 22, 2021 06:39 PM)A Nobody Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I'd pick Taco Bell every time

I just puked a little.

Everything on Taco Bells menu makes me feel sick after eating.

A Nobody - June 24, 2021, 4:19 am

(Jun 23, 2021 11:14 PM)Crypt Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I just puked a little.

Everything on Taco Bells menu makes me feel sick after eating.
Really? I hear that from some people but have never had any issues whatsoever.

SIM-5035282 - June 30, 2021, 2:08 pm

(Jun 13, 2021 02:55 PM)hayesh Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) In my town we finally got a chipotle about a few years ago. I hadn't eaten it until a few weeks ago. A buddy of mine and I went in and got a burrito and a small drink and it came out to a little over $9. The burrito was small and lackluster. I started thinking to myself Why the hell is this place so hyped, Qdoba is way better. At Qdoba you can get a two times bigger burrito a small drink and a fat chocolate chip cookie for 11 bucks. Not to mention the Qdoba burritos just in general tasted better to me. Anyone else feel the same?

Is Qdoba burritos really good? Should I try one. The only food I tasted was taco bell that's about it. I haven't been to chipotle nor never got a Qdoba burritos but do know Qdoba has a few locations in my local area. I looked online to see what a Qdoba burritos and it looks juicy and good from just the images.

Blockonome - June 30, 2021, 3:15 pm

I never actually tried it, but for some strange reason, I do feel like I want to give it a try now aha