Thread: Thread bugged

Dopamine - June 23, 2021, 3:56 pm

Hello, I don't know what happened but I was looking at my salethread then all dissapeared and switched by " Click to edit "

When I click on Edit text I can see my thread so I click on Save changes but I still see " Click to edit ".

I am on mobile, but is your account limited in edits?

I don't think vendor has edit limit and when I first saw "Click to edit" I didn't edited the thread. The post wasn't like that few hours ago.

I have no other ideas for your problem, but good luck solving it.

Made a video to make it clear.

I have tried on mobile and PC. Even if the thread is there when I click on edit I can't save anything.

Edit;

I just noticed others sellers have the same issue

Fuck, could be bug with a new feature we added for the quotes to have formatted usernames.

I'll ask Xerotic to take a look.

EDIT: I can't replicate this. Are you using QUICK EDIT or FULL EDIT?

And have you gotten the new CSS with a CTRL+F5? You'll know because in quotes the usernames are formatted to the groups.

EDIT 2: While I can't replicate I can see the problem. Really not sure WTF. Please be patient while Xerotic takes a look. Might not be till tomorrow. Don't edit your threads yet. Just leave them alone.

It also happened on this thread <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=6090704>

Omniscient - June 23, 2021, 8:11 pm

Okay, it's a bug with JS and a conflict with the css I believe.

We will fix asap.

Yeah, it happened with my Intro to Crypto thread. I thought I was going crazy with it, I'm glad it's not just me.

I didn't edit my thread but still, it changed to "Click to edit" which is weird. The only thing I did was get the thread stickied, nothing else.

Yes happened to both of my Panthers threads, i'm sure it will get fixed in due time.

Xerotic - June 24, 2021, 4:36 am

Fixed.
