Thread: Make That Money - Easy Fiverr Method - Only \$5

Koyote - June 28, 2021, 7:45 am

Make That Money!

This is a simple method that I've used for years now, and it really works!

I don't believe it to be saturable because of the nature of how it works, as elements need multiple sellers for the buyers' convenience.

You won't make millions, but I can do a solid $50-100 every week with this.

No vouch copies, it's only $5.

can I earn $100 a day, if i work on it everyday or what

Squints - July 6, 2021, 7:42 pm

Does it have to do with book/product reviews? Looking to get back into Fiverr since I have a level 2 account.

Would like to get a few technical gigs going.

Hi there, hope all is well? Do you take PayPal as payment method? Cheers!

It is possible, yes! It helps if you have an account with a bit of weight behind it already, like some reviews etc, but I started doing it on a fresh account and had my first order within 24 hours in all honesty.

No sir, this is more of a personal service type of gig but with very little effort on your part. I may be selling another method relatively soon that could fit your needs though, so I will hit you up when I do if you might be interested.

Hey, all good thanks, hope you are too! I can accept PayPal if it's paid as a F&F payment, yes!

I'm not sure as I've not used it before, but I will check and get back to you.

bought the method from op cause it's only $5 so why not.

And I like it, I haven't set everything up yet but will do for sure!
$100 a week should deff be doable and it requires very lil work

Thanks Coyote

How long would it take to make sales if I have a brand new fiverr account with no sales on it?

In all honesty, I got an order within two hours of making my first gig, and from some initial feedback from some customers it's been a day or two for them too, so not long at all. Hoping for some more reviews to drop soon, but it's a method that definitely works!

I'm sorry but I'm only accepting PayPal if it's F&F as it's a friend's account that will be handling the money, and we've both had bad experiences with chargebacks causing major issues in the past.

That's great, but I'm still only accepting PayPal if it's a F&F payment I'm afraid.

It's an expression that people use to express polite or formal apology or regret. Yes, it's only $5 so I'm not interested in receiving even less after fees, and potentially risking an account if someone decides to chargeback, so now you fully understand the terms after it's been explained a few times. Now please stop sales trashing this thread.

Is this something related to reselling?

I don't think it can be saturated due to the nature of the gig, it can even be scaled up because of that point too.
