Thread: Fake Discord Imposter - 649001350037766154

Never thought someone would take my name this fast on discord.

A user thought they were dealing with me and got scammed before accepting a contract.

Seems like this person also pretended to be someone else

Please DM me to confirm my discord before dealing. As much as I want to help you, I'm not responsible for any losses you get scammed from my imposter.

I agree, its honestly crazy how fast they come lol. I literally post my sales thread yesterday and today one of my members got scammed.

Its such a shame that some people need to resort to scamming
