Thread: If you had to move to another country, what country would you move to? flavoral - July 4, 2021, 5:48 am

Let's say you have to pack your bags tonight and tomorrow morning go move and live in another country, which country would you move to? and why?

Dan - July 4, 2021, 5:54 am

Thailand.

Absolutely loved the two trips I've been there.

Love the food, the life style, and its reasonably cheap to live.

Where would you move too?

Probably Japan or Singapore tbh ?

A Nobody - July 4, 2021, 7:02 am

Like, for realistic living or in a perfect world you'd choose to live there?

M4A4™ - July 4, 2021, 7:31 am

Canada I think, I actually would really like to move there.

Bastille - July 4, 2021, 7:45 am

I would probably go to one country is Scandinavia. Pretty civilized and respectful people, fair governments, and it's snowy :)

Lilith - July 4, 2021, 8:09 am

Iceland or Sweden are the two at the top of my list these days. Norway's a close third and frequently swaps places with Sweden.

neightworks. - July 4, 2021, 8:48 am

Tough, probably Canada since it's like the same.

100% I would move to Sweden (up north) or Spain (Malaga). I know it's totally different (climates, etc), been to Malaga many times but northern Sweden just seems so amazing. Away from all the people, up there all alone with your family.

Yes, it's true, the earnings are really decent there. My dad worked there for several years and I must honestly admit that from one salary he was able to feed his family, save a large amount of money and lose an equally large amount in the casino?

Financially, only Denmark can compete with this country (of course I can be wrong, I'm not an omnibus?).

I'm not sure about it being that chill, but sure. It does have its moment.

Amsterdam is not really a country, I can drive to Amsterdam in less than an hour but it's pretty boring. the canals are alright if you've never seen it before, but that gets boring really fast. ^^

I would personally move to Switzerland or Canada.

Looks like a lot of HF users are choosing Canada. RCMP accounts on HF will be really happy about this lol.

I know it's not a country, come on. ?

Everyone has different tastes ? Plus I like the fact that there are no cars, I have always lived in big cities so yeah for me it's chill.

Canada is not a country, change my mind.

TB12 - July 21, 2021, 11:16 pm

Canada since I'm a citizen there as well, I did live there a couple years recently.

The only thing you guys used to be good at was hockey ...but all your good players go play for good teams.

Proof you're not a Canadian because Canada isn't a real country.

Next?

I agree. My banks accounts also agree with you.

L1l DuRk - July 25, 2021, 6:18 am

I will move to Cyprus or Norway ...i heard it cool out there :blackhat:

Forensic - July 25, 2021, 6:35 am

Probably Ireland or America but depending on situation Bali

RAT - July 25, 2021, 11:32 am

Gonna be moving to Bali in Autumn.

It's always about finding new places to network and build.

Demize - July 25, 2021, 11:33 am

Canada or Australia would be my choices. Now I want to visit Ireland and Iceland but I would particularly want to live there

Ke$h - July 29, 2021, 3:55 am

Would definitely love to live in Sweden. Nature, the mountains, that stuff just gets me.

Blockonome - July 29, 2021, 1:52 pm

I would like to move to Russia, immediately, and that is not even a joke.

SIM-353284 - July 29, 2021, 2:29 pm

I would like to go to Mars with Elon & Doge.

andrewGAMING - July 30, 2021, 9:03 am

The US Brother. Great women, great food.

Nate - July 31, 2021, 12:15 am

I'm tryna move to italia I got citizenship there too

The - July 31, 2021, 12:37 am

I'd move to some country in Europe if I had to.

SIM-3205632 - July 31, 2021, 1:35 am

Probably Australia, Canada or Spain.

All 3 of them very beautiful countries with beautiful sceneries.

Kosmos - July 31, 2021, 1:37 am

I'd move to Iceland right now if I could afford it. Absolutely beautiful. It's like being on a different planet.

4/5 of them speak English, thankfully.

I can't make them, but I'll eat them all day.

What country are you moving to?

Oprahh - August 26, 2021, 7:00 pm

Spain along the shore (marbella). Honestly, anything with hot weather that's not a third world country would do. Mexico would be nice as well.

Bluffer - August 26, 2021, 7:09 pm

Definitely the US, somewhere in Florida or California would be dope. Maybe even Vegas.

(I'm in Canada now) It wouldn't be too much different from here I imagine.

Spazzzer - August 27, 2021, 3:01 pm

Probably somewhere in europe. I live in the states and from what my family tells me in Europe is life is a lot better. So I'd like to try it out lol.

ForBobo - August 27, 2021, 8:18 pm

Ok so i'm not a weeb i promise, but would definitely pick Japan. Out of the few countries i've been to, Japan had by far the nicest people all around. Everybody actually cares about treating you right and doing the right thing. It's not like in america or europe where you'll get a lot of people who are just downright rude. Very nice people over there.
