There are a bunch of problems and issues that we run into on a day-to-day basis. What's a common problem you run into a lot? What would you develop or what could be done to solve it?

Auto hygiene, the ability to wash my face, shower, brush and floss my teeth, apply my whitening for them and finally applying my face creams. To do all of this at one time would be great and save so much time and effort. I'm sure everyone else will come out with better ideas but this is just one for me.

What to have for lunch and dinner...that was the hardest part of the day that you will encounter when you have family of your own.

Solution is to take note of some menu and let the family members take a choice for the menu to have for the day hahaha
