So i kinda of got myself into a pickle but hey its okay slow and steady you know....

But was curious to know how many of you were able to achieve 1000 dollars doing some type of job, What was the job and how long did it take?

At the same time, same question but with 10k?

Just curious

Laying tile and pressure washing makes a killing and pool remodeling and restoration has some serious money if you have the knowledge and know how.

I've made thousands in a single day from bug bounties.

Keep in mind this was rare for me.

I've been chasing this payout since.

I may have spent years searching who knows how many hours.

I worked for a distribution center making $16.50 an hour. Made a good paycheck every week steady money can be good.

It's all about the long gain right?

Instant gratification < prolonged gratification

Ultimately at least
