Wonder how many people actually manage to go through on this though.

Cooligan - July 9, 2021, 3:50 am

How is this even remotely allowed on HF..?

atlantic - July 9, 2021, 4:08 am

Learning is a continuous process. if there is a link to the website, can you share?

Yanix - July 9, 2021, 4:19 am

Is this for real!? I wonder where did you get those numbers and if it's really happening on Europe?

Stevensan - July 9, 2021, 4:32 am

"A new life in Europe" Don't believe those fake fantasies. You will end up worse. There is a lot of unemployment and the rent is high.

???????????? - July 9, 2021, 4:32 am

Actually looks/sounds kinda cheap imo. I mean when talking about 1st world countrys. Wouldn't it also depend on what country you're exactly from because i think the drunk 3rd world police man wont notice the fake passport but the over-motivated police officer from the netherlands for example will probably see it?

Same thing on bank accounts/ diploma and certificates? Would also assume that you could spent way more money on "better" quality ones that could change your whole past to a different person, not only some years where you still could get fucked because someone looked at something too closely.

Not a professional in that but i assume it based on documentarys that i've seen over the years and/or basic logic?

I mean for example what if you get into a traffic stop and they find out your license is fake because they can't find shit about you?

(Jul 9, 2021 03:53 AM)Davkul Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Well from a quick read I can tell it's just an article with stats, It's not inciting people on buying a new one or linking to any sites providing that, so I think it's fine to stay on HF.

Yeah nope, my morning brain when I saw this didn't really read much other than the actual thread design itself apart from the title, and then well somehow I thought this was a sales thread at first..

Aaaaand yet another reason why I have the Dunce award.

You can buy fake passports or ID's everywhere.

It's just similar to the Disallowed Blackhat Activity of HF (topic) like (V)CC's.

Similar in Poland, you can purchase them on the streets sometimes.

Things like that. I'll not go into details, but yes, the "easy" work to get fake documents is ridiculously.

I personally do not think this thread should exist. It will encourage many noobs or "curious" members to test it out, or even seek for it on the deep web.

Please include in your thread that looking at several websites could be dangerous too. Some links are valid, others will give you a life full of blackmailing and harassments.

DO NOT visit the deep / dark web if you aren't ready for any potential consequences.

I am just curious but not into it bro...not going into dark web as well ???

Grim - July 9, 2021, 7:48 am

Interesting stuff sadly 90% of those sellers will just scam you

I know you are better than this. It's just that children (or younger adults) often see something new on the internet, social media or just on TV and Google for it. Or try to "find it".

This happens with illegal topics even more. Guns, counterfeits, etc., I do not think this thread (even though it's just informative) should be titled "How to Buy a New Identity" as it will be appealing for some to search for these illegal items.

[...]This is probably a stretch; I don't think anyone is going to see this thread and take it as an opportunity to spend $1,000+ on a new identity to "test it out".

The thread title is definitely misleading, though.

I have been on the Dark Web in the past looking for Illegal Goods (I'm not going to elaborate on HF)...

I have seen Passports, Identification, and Counterfeit... My fear was buying a Passport and getting caught (being charged with Identity Fraud...

As for the Counterfeit, Canadian Money is Plastic now, so I was afraid they would make the wrong Bills and get me busted.

The part of this article I think is cool is the fact, (it seems as though) if you find the right seller you can get an All-in-One Package.

The Dark Web IS Dangerous, but it feels like one of those "Better Call Saul" moments when you're on it.

Not to find a $1000+ one, but the amount of noobs contacting me for "hacking sites" and "buy deep web" is ridiculous.

So what I was trying to say is members will find it interesting or are curious about the topic and go Google for it, or worse, seek at the dark web for ones.

Similar happened with drugs, weapons and counterfeits in my Country after some main news station released a documentary about the "dark web". People at Instagram, FB and even YouTube comments were full of it. The stupidity of some people online doesn't surprise me anymore.

Appreciate it. Yes, I have a hard time reading yellow font if it's in large quantities.

For example, marking an important word, will make it stand out. If you feel like doing that haha.

It's illegal, regardless of the intentions you have.

Still not illegal to discuss illegal activity from an outside perspective. This guys not selling anything, just showing research.

and of course both uses of fake ids are illegal, but one gets you in prison and the other usually just gets you kicked out of a bar.

all ill say is, done well = nope.
