Thread: Lose the ability to cry OR cry every day for 20 minutes randomly?

M4A4™ - July 12, 2021, 4:20 am

Okay this is a interesting one hahaha, guys would you rather lose the ability to cry or cry every day for 20 minutes randomly?

I think I would just rather lose the ability to cry.

SeekHelp - July 12, 2021, 4:36 am

This is quite an easy one.

Never cry. Why would i choose to cry once a day?

2xTheTap115 - July 12, 2021, 5:47 am

I think I would rather lose the ability to cry than wonder when I will have another unexpected crying attack again?

And if I would like to cry, I would wear a crying emoji mask on my face???

RedJohn77 - July 12, 2021, 6:24 am

I'd rather cry a little. Lets it all out

To clean your eyes out. The amount of time spent crying is too long, I'd rather lose the ability to cry. We got eye drops, just have to pay for a basic human function at that point.

A + - July 12, 2021, 6:36 am

I have only cried maybe twice in the last 15 years. Not really much of a point in it.

Psilocybinaut - July 12, 2021, 6:36 am lose the ability to cry for sure

Bro, I could not agree more with this right here. What's the point in feeling sorry for yourself? Get off your ass and keep pushing forward.

Yeah man. I don't judge anybody if they cry, but honestly I've been through some pretty rough shit in the last 15 years and never hardly shed a tear.

I don't know what you've been through, but you probably a lot I'm guessing so you've just become numb. You got a strong mind.

I wouldn't say numb, I would say tough. Like you said, pick your shit up and move on.

OxaByte - July 12, 2021, 7:32 am

I have cried only few times in my life & most of the times i cried was when i was kid. I never cry no matter what happens. I am a strong person.

Yanix - July 13, 2021, 5:06 am

Losing the ability to cry is better than crying everyday for about 20 minutes :D

You will look like a weeping creep daily unlike not crying at all just cool enough ???

But also on the flip side what if something very bad happened and everyone's clearly upset/tearing. Then your just chilling their looking like a asshole who doesnt care that would be awkward too haha

Lorem Ipsum - July 13, 2021, 5:52 am

I haven't cried in a long time. Last time was when my grandma passed away and I saw my grandpa crying, first time in my life I saw the man this emotional. Broke my heart.

Rather never cry again than 20 min each day. 20 min of crying is a lot, I don't think I'd like that in my daily schedule.

I wouldn't like crying everyday for 20 minutes but I certainly don't want to loose the ability to cry. I actually lost the ability to cry for many years, when your emotions are overwhelmed and you physically cant cry, its not the best of things.

So even though its not ideal, I would choose the crying option

Interesting but it is true if you could not cry you would have so much emotion built up it would be tough either way really.

TB12 - July 13, 2021, 9:46 am

I'd rather cry everyday for 20 minutes, crying is needed to release stress and if I kept it all inside my whole life I'd go mad

Prettykitty - July 13, 2021, 10:27 am

20 minute cry sessions. Is it messed up to say that I'm used to crying even more per day.

much0day - July 13, 2021, 10:45 am why would I ever want to cry?

I'll happily give up the ability to cry.

Omniscient - July 13, 2021, 10:51 am

I already cry randomly 20 minutes a day. Nothing wrong with it.

N - July 13, 2021, 10:53 am

I already cry everyday over how depressing Zero and Lavish Living life is. Nothing new ????
