My apologies if this is the wrong place or time to be asking, but I wanna just mess around with some rat tools, cant get any to work though since I am trying to use the method that I used to use where I port forward with open vpn and use noip for a dns. Also cant get portmap to work for an open vpn profile.

Considering you posted on a public forum that is monitored by law enforcement? Turning yourself in maybe if you don't use a VPN to connect to HF, and if you do I hope you use a different one for your hacking activities and they are both paid anonymously and don't keep logs otherwise you just shot yourself in the foot posting here. Next time don't be stupid, don't break your OpSec and never brag. This post probably put law enforcement on your back

What a silly thing to post.

What an even silly-er thing to ask.
