Thread: Crypto Coin Mining Hash \(Permanent\) - Autopilot Money Making

hackforumsman - July 20, 2021, 11:16 pm

Here I am selling mining hash for your desired coins. I am able to provide you hash for almost all types of algorithms.

How it will work?

You need to select a pool and coin you want to mine. You need to give me the worker details and pool server address and Stratum Port.

I will make a bin and run it on my bots and you will start getting mining hash in your pool immediately. You will keep enjoying mining hash for years.

If you are new to mining I can help you setup pool and everything for some extra cost.

Please PM me on site to start a deal.

Pricing: -

1 Bot with GPU $1 (you can buy as many as you want) minimum buy 10 Bots.

computers with Asic miners connected ($200)

Thanks

OP let me test his service and I'll now review it. Keep in mind that I will keep updating my post on a daily basis to update you guys.

He has been very professional throughout the whole conversation. Despite the fact I wanted to switch pools 3 times, he didn't make a problem for that and was super responsive. In the end, we tried 3 pools, and decided to stay with the one that seems to suit me better for now.

Results so far (ETH):

So far this looks like a legit service, op says that the miners will not disappear. Will keep updating as I see progress and profitability.

Zion Williamson - July 21, 2021, 3:51 am

Why should a bot that can earn $ 5 a day on ETH sell for $ 1?

It's not 1 bot, supposedly, the xxx amount of bots are proxied into 1 worker.

RandalKyle - July 21, 2021, 4:09 am

Interesting service. I wonder how many bots are needed to make good profit. I see that your worker is pumping 140+ Mhash. It must be a high-end Nvidia gpu (3090??).

OP got me 60 bots and started getting 80% of the hash rate promised, will give feedback once in a while.

Hope this lasts. so far so good.

Here is my hash rate for 19hrs, peaked 170kh/s around 6:23 - 6:32 am.
There's a lot of ups and downs since the bots are not 24/7 online.

I did a contract for 200 bots, OP provided 10 more as an extra as I sent a bit more money on accident (my wallet is shit).

So far they are performing at peak most of the time, obviously it depends on whether the bot is online or not:

What pool is that?

hauzenberg - July 25, 2021, 2:13 am

Hello everyone,

I'm not an experienced miner, I just saw an opportunity to make some money using this method. That's why I need you help. I have no experience with pools and OP says me that pool have some problems or so, I don't know.

So, I first purchased 250 ETH bots and 250 XMR bots. XMR was performing so badly and I told OP to transfer it all to the ETH. After that, OP come with an offer to return all 500 bots to him and he will sell me high-performing ASIC miners.

I was making 300 Mh/s with 250 ETH bots and OP offered me 1.5 GH/s for $1k and I requested 1.8 GH/s so we make a deal for additional $1.2k to remove all GPU bots and get all ASIC miners.

That's what I did. I send them additonal $1.2k and he started configuring ASIC miners to mine on ethermine pool.

OP promised me steady 1.8 GH/s.

I got 1.3 GH/s with some peaks to 1.4 GH/s and that's all, I didn't even getting 1.5 GH/s nor 1.8 GH/s... OP told me it's pool not seeing hashrate but ASICs are performing perfectly. So, my question is - is there any better ETH pool which will display a real hashrate?

Next thing, this morning, hashrate went down from 1.3 GH/s to 300 MH/s and OP says that's because:

Quote:When pool find a block the hash resets but this pool is finding blocks every few seconds, no?

After that he says that he found a problem
Quote:Okay so I understood the problem
The pool was changing random difficulties
I set a high difficulty now and that this problem will happen every day and that he will monitor my pool 24/7 for years and correct difficulty every time drop occur. Crazy, right? Can you guys help us to find some pool which have no that problems so both OP and I can sleep at night and not monitor hashrate?

I think it's not "STEADY 1.8 GH/s" as OP promised but I'm not experienced miner and OP told me to ask some miners about this stuff. So, is it normal from hashing rate to looks like this:

(don't look at before the first peak at around 16:00 on the left side of the chart, that's when we switched from bots to asic)

Can you guys help us? Is it pool? Poorly configured asic miners? Proxy? Whatever? Can you help us to make it steady 1.8 GH/s? I want to buy a lot more hashing power from OP but not if it require 24/7 monitoring and if we cannot go to sleep because difficulty can change and hashing will drop insanely.

I am using this service for 3 days and here is my honest review.

At first, I was very confused about his service, how can someone do this so I contact him and he added 50 Bots to my pool 3 days ago. Just a few minutes after adding I started getting hashes and the result was fantastic, then I ordered more 30 and again I ordered more 50 bots. Every time seller responded quickly.

My Income: My pick hash rate was 236MH/s, Now I am getting an average 153Mh/s, until now my earning is 0.01146 ETH, for this amount of invest I think earning perfect.

I am fully satisfied with his service and I recommend to all, if you want some autopilot income then don't hesitate to buy hash from here. Thank you hackforumsman for open this fantastic service for all HF members.

OP found that ethermine can't handle that much hashrate on a single worker so he made some changes, reconfigure everything and it slowly started rising to contracted 1.8 GH/s and it's now even more than that. Hope it will stay steady around 1.8 GH/s for many days, I'll keep you guys updated how it's going, hope it will be stable because it's ASIC miners. I'll definitely buy more if things like this doesn't occur anymore, will keep you updated guys.

Let's make some money!

Payout should be in a few days and I'll update again. For any issues I've had, OP was fast to respond, pretty satisfied so far.

Helidek - July 25, 2021, 8:19 am

Bought 50 bots on XMR.

Currently getting between 100-250khs, peak at around 300. sometimes drop to 50.

Will update in few days how it goes.

Communication was good, altho it took a while to setup, but seller is very good.
Hopefully this goes well!

Louisn8 - July 25, 2021, 9:13 am

Added on discord, have a lot of experience with Binance futures but not with mining.

Do you offer a setup guide? Would be looking at purchasing 100+ bots. Thanks.

I have a slight feeling that this service will die before people ROI. Look, I can be wrong but I just can't logic out why op would give other people all this hash rate if he could get it himself? He just needs to put his own address in and can make a lot more that way vs selling it to people here.

How does selling the bots make OP more profit then running all of them to his address?

Nonetheless, this seems like a great service especially because you already have the bots setup on your end. GLWS

Edit: Do your research guys, check out the thread below and make your own decisions. There are claims of someone running a ponzi and exit scamming...

I would really like to know this also. Besides the fact that OP says it's because he uses his bots for other reasons he's spending time putting everyones info in and to me I don't understand why he would sell what he is losing money on in 5 days. I'll purchase if the reasoning is good.

Alright, it's becoming clear this isn't "Autopilot", and is most likely a scam.

Spent $1k, it went a decent hashrate, peaking around 1000 kh/s XMR.

Then it stopped. Went to zero. I contacted him; it started again; 6 hours later it stopped.

It appears he's just trying to keep people happy for long enough so he can get more clients, get people to re-invest; then run off with the cash.

Think about it.... if you have thousands of hash to give out, why not sell some for instant cash? Sure mining is passive but its not instant.

I'm not calling this guy a multi or a scammer but I'm as skeptical as @Lotus about him.

If you have the potential to earn thousands a day why would you share and potentially ruin it?

so either OP is looking for instant payout because the method is unstable (therefore he's selling lol) or we're about to witness the biggest exit scam of 2021 on HF.

Either ways, I'm grabbing the popcorn for now.

the man is trusted and offers tests

He just offered me 500 bots for testing

The Hash with 500 bots went up to 250-400kh /s

I'm thinking of buying but I'm not sure

500bots = 250-450 kh / s (up to 450, down to 250 some times up to 500kh/s)

I mean, each bot takes out about 800 hs - 1kh/s, a little bit, I think for "gpu" mining

I will think very well before I buy because I want going to invest a large amount so I have to think very well [warn]

Tons of users have already received payouts including me. The reason he's going to use a private pool is due to the large pools detecting that it's bots so they get declined. Even though this service is new, I would bear with caution.

ok buddy retard keep telling yourself that swapping to a "private pool" = fake cloud mining scam directed pool = still 1% legit

BlueCider - July 28, 2021, 8:39 am

As a contracted customer who has decided to risk buying from the OP, I can confirm that I did receive a payout. I've attached screenshots to prove this.

However, I highly recommend staying away from this, as the new "private pool" which many have said, is a giant scam, seems to be it. This is the new "private pool", <https://botmine.net/>. When you add your ETH address, and you can literally add any ETH address, it will create an account and you'll receive 10 GPU bots. How generous lol. Upon further inspection, you can tell it's just a counter that goes up and you're not actually mining anything. The counter which shows the current bots that are online is also fake, as, in the source code, this is the code that runs the counter:

Quote:

setInterval(function(){$('#dwerat').find('span').html((Math.round(Math.random()*(100000))+200000));},10000);
})(jQuery);

I'm not an expert at HTML so please forgive me, but this is clearly a fake private pool like many have already suggested. What I find funny is that as soon as you create an account, you start mining currency straight away, at a constant rate, which is not like that in real mining. Please don't fall for this. I'm glad I've already made most of my original investment back. It seems the OP was providing a legit service just to gain popularity and trust, and then deploy the scam.

Unless the OP decides to change his ways and actually provide a legit mining service (which will never happen), this is a scam. Go check out the "private pool" for yourself: <https://botmine.net/>

Edit: Page source in case someone wants to see the site, as the OP has already shut down the site lol. <https://pastebin.com/T8MRSRrG>

When did he send this site to you? his last message to me was to wait for the private pool 10hours ago.

Upon inspection you are correct the speed is fake as well as the balance, all of it is hardcoded.

Code 'use strict';

(function($){
    let dailyProfit      = $('#dailyProfit').text();
    let dailyProfitInSeconds = dailyProfit/864000;

    let minedAmount      = 0;
    setInterval(function(){
        minedAmount += dailyProfitInSeconds;
        $('#mined').text(minedAmount.toFixed(8)); }, 100);

    setInterval(function(){$('#dwerat').find('span').html((Math.round(Math.random()*(100000))+200000)); },10000);
})(jQuery);

document.querySelectorAll('.copybtn').forEach((element)=>{ element.addEventListener('click', copy, true);
```

```

function copy(e) { var
    t = e.target,
    c = t.dataset.copyparget,
    inp = (c ? document.querySelector(c) : null);
  if (inp && inp.select) { inp.select();
    try { document.execCommand('copy');
      inp.blur();
      t.classList.add('copied');
      setTimeout(function() { t.classList.remove('copied'); }, 1500); }catch (err) {
      alert(`Please press Ctrl/Cmd+C to copy`);
    }
  }
}

Honey Singh - July 28, 2021, 10:54 am

Well, I'm not gonna blame OP at first.

We all are greedy and yes that's a super true fact. (We are checking our risk appetite)

Let's do some calculations really quick.

I have a budget of 2k USD and want to earn 10k!

I'll come up with a scheme.

Invest 200 and make 700 per month. (300 mh/s eth lifetime, 0.29 ETH a month) OMG= YEA winning shot?

Let's do some calculations my man

1st customer = paid $200 as an investment for 300 mh/s hash = nearly 0.3 ETH a month "1st day"

2nd customer = paid because of 1st customer vouch and it's fuckin magic? I must risk some as well (invest $200) "2nd day"

3rd customer = medium-size investment of $1000 "2nd day"

The total investment I've received = $1400

How much I've paid in 2 days in return to my customs in terms of "HASH"? = hardly $150 in terms of fuckin mining hash!

Wait a minute?

Why he is planning to make his pool?

Most probably he is out of his rented mining hashes!

Trying to change the path by offering 1-hour payout in his pool? AWESOME

2 things he will gonna probably achieve in his private pool.

Grab more people attention to grab more clients in a very very short time.

More investment up to 30k.

Guys don't be dickhead.

1. Have you ever seen anyone in your fuckin life who offers things a lifetime lol?

2. GPU Mining bots are that easy to get? why the fuck people are targetting XMR? because it uses CPU = Yes because every pc has CPU memory.

3. GPU bots are very hard to find in such a big quantity, I have never seen anyone who offers THIS and I'm pretty much sure even if anyone has a good amount of GPU bots he will never rent them out. because he can make bread easily and much more as compared to renting out.

OPEN YOUR FUCKIN EYES GUYS

Without escrow the members is not protected, deals should be protected since the OP will escape now to buy his drugs with victems cash & the contracts is use less now.

Since the OP have discord outside HF, the victems members is more than contracts #

OliverSc - July 28, 2021, 7:46 pm

32WhjYjGcVTm4oGL7nRxN3FBIqq4ZdKCbL after doing some basic analysis to his address, in the past some bitcoin were deposited to his address but from an exchange that doesn't require KYC.

I believe as he used such service he already knows how to cover himself and as he uses monero he'll just send back to non-KYC exchange the BTC in order to receive XMR.

<https://mempool.space/tx/e74b07285da76ed7b43b24f392e2b8e1471050c07f5e6b8783c7d60ba79576b6>

I believe best thing is to report the address right now to the authorities, whoever wants to do it actually and if the funds move to any exchange with KYC, he'll have problems.
