I have doubts if you guys are able to click a link, or do you ask for more sophisticated methods ?
If you found that one old and not interesting, why don't you just ignore my thread and move on with your live?

I posted this, because there are people who can benefit from that. I am not talking about the Hack forum junkies. I know for those people it might be not interesting, because they know already. But not everybody is a Hack Forum Junkie, one or the other find that one helpful.

It was also thought to inspire those people.

So, if you have a better method, or are so much an advanced user, you may teach me how you do that.
