She/he is a scammer, don't give them money or crypto for gift cards. You won't get your gift card but they will take your money then block you!!.

Doesn't look like you have any contracts with the user. so this CA will be invalid.

Did the user tell you to avoid using contracts or did you simply not use contracts with him?

User has 2 open disputes where members claim they sent funds and were blocked after. Completely your fault for falling for this, as harsh as that sounds.

Also as above member mentioned, you used no contract so people can't really believe massively in this thread. But we can see their other disputes anyway.

Why would you fall for this person?

I'm sorry you fell for this scammer and lost your money, but having no contract with this user is also your fault. Use the contract system next time and also do a little more research before purchasing. It's easy to avoid scammers on this site if you take the time to do a little research. Sorry though, still sucks.
