Just found all 3 of the games I played as a child; Poptropica, Monkey Quest & Lego Universe. Did anyone else play these?

Haven't played any of these as a kid, but I remember seeing tons of Lego Universe ads. I started out playing online games with Runescape (OSRS now).

My nostalgia comes from Halo 2. I was obsessed with that game. Then I got into standby and modding. Man do I miss those days.

I used to play heli attack, gunbound, and lots of stick fighting games

Lego Universe reminds me of Lego Islands, such a great game back then!

Some of my favorite gaming nostalgia trips are from back when my brother and I played Nintendo 64 together, Tekken, Mario Carts, Monster Jam, that road rage Truck game, the Tron motorcycle racing game was lit too, Silicon Valley was always too hard for me but still really fun. Zelda, and I remember I had Twisted Metal on Nintendo 64 but I can't find it online for that system...

We use to get pretty mad at each other for loosing or "screen sharing" lol
