TOS Spoiler (Click to View)

Explain everything in a very detailed form, references, pictures, budget and timeframe. We usually auto-accept requests that are above 100$ and the minimum is 25$ or above.

We have the right to deny any sale.

A max of 2 weeks would be allowed for revision after service is delivered.

We usually take 50% upfront, 25% upfront depending upon the project and the users profile as our developers would start working the moment they accept the order.

We have the right to ask for a day or two extensions with a notice in scenarios when developers face difficulties in finishing the project.

By sending us the project details , you accept to our TOS.

I dont understand whats evanto service ?

He is my employee and I am the one who is running the service and TRON is the company/service name.

Company has employees and employees do their work and it falls under company's portfolio. Doesnt make sense buddy

Are you kidding? He is using envato templates. <https://envato.com/>

The images I was sent were premade envato templates.

This is bad for business..

I received a DM from the OP and again I will be clear here. The art work I received is from Envato. This is not unique art or websites.

The article the above author doesnt resemble anything with our developers work.

He pasted a website link and when we checked it , it nowhere shows the templates hes talking about.

He didnt even try adding us on discord to prove the authenticity of his statements.
