This is definitely one of the better suggestions on here ^ (in terms of realism/plausibility). It's wild how many people underestimate things like this. Blogs, general social media building/mentoring like with Youtube/IG/Twitter/OnlyFans.

I've seen people make blogs and just copy paste articles from other sources, load 'em up with ads, and bam - free income. Affiliate links, links to their other side hustles, etc.

Very worth getting into this type of thing - do not underestimate it.

Nice post btw OP, thanks for posting :)

Some of them are really underestimated indeed.

It are mostly the small things combined that will create the bigger picture. Without the first step, further steps can't be made.

I hope i helped u in some kind of way. Eitherway, i'm glad u appriciating my post!
Thankyou?

Hello,

Easier said than done, I don't think that's entirely true. Creating a blog yourself is one of the easiest things there is.

The thing is having an attractive topic for your blog that will be worth reading for the people. The best guide for a blog will not be just 1 guide on the internet, my knowledge about most things is also not based on 1 source of information. By going through different sources you will go your own way based on that information to have the best formula at your knowledge

When at some point traffic will lead to the blog, that is usually the time when it also becomes more interesting for the blog owner. In this thread i gave more main ideas to have passive income. Detailed and profitable it can be and i can explain how to make profit, get traffic and all that. Only I would rather offer that as a service in the future. But with the right commitment and information you will get further than you think!
