We always forget.

Like I said. On the day I even forgot it was my birthday, it was pretty much an regular day for me.

Happy Birthday!

I don't know why you feel 80, but try to recuse those 50 years of weight of your shoulders, and enjoy your time.

Happy birthday man! Shit happens, I'm sure there's a lot of people in the world that don't know their birthday or forget / can't tell the day.

lol, I'm a bit closer than you. Those years come quick.

It's all about factoring. When you're 10 years old it's only 1/10th of your lifespan. The older you get the shorter the years feel because it's less of a fraction of your past years that you can remember. Getting old is a trap, die young instead.

Wish I can go back when I was a kid.

Wish I didn't get any older.

We all wish we could go back and mine bitcoin in 2008.

It's not gonna happen :<
