Thread: Become an Amazon Product Tester \(Earn Between \$750-\$2000 per month\)

Next$Gen7ustu - August 22, 2021, 4:40 pm

Hello everyone,

I currently provide amazon 'product testing' services

The way this works is quite simple:

I work with thousands of Amazon Sellers that want to buy 5 star reviews for their products.

They are willing to give their items for free in exchange for a 5 star review.

These sellers send me their list of items daily and i post it to my discord server.

You can pick any item you want from the list.

You then purchase it from Amazon.

7 days after you receive the item you leave a 5 star review

Once your review goes live (1-2 days after you submit it) the seller will refund you the amount you spent on the product through paypal

You get refunded AND you get to keep the product

How do you make money from this? ($750 - $2000 per month)

To make money from this is quite simple. All you do is re-sell the products you got to keep for free. Go on websites like eBay, offerup, Facebook marketplace, Craigslist, wish and more to sell your items

No matter what price you sell the product for you will profit because you got the product for free

You can also use your friends amazon accounts to do this and get even more products for free but you must keep in mind that you can only order the same product 1 time per address.

If you'd like to become a product tester please feel free to contact me.

My discord is: oslice#3225

My Telegram is @o2man1

I don't know if this user is scamming or not, but I can vouch for product testing being a thing. It used to be a thousand times better. A couple years ago they cracked down hard on reviews. You used to be able to get thousands of products for free at the click of a button. Now you have to wait to be refunded through Paypal. Unless you have multiple Amazon prime accounts then it becomes impossible to make this type of money anymore through just one. Trying to post even just a few multiple reviews a little bit too quickly on one account will get you review banned.

I can assure you guys this is 100% safe, all of our work is done through amazon. If something were to happen and you don't receive a refund, you can always just refund the product to amazon. You are right that it is harder these days, but to earn over $1,000 a month is pretty easy with this method still. We allow users to order twice per week which makes it safer to do this without getting your review flagged.

If you guys have any other questions, id be happy to answer them.
