Thread: Someone stole my crappy video xD

I--I - August 23, 2021, 1:56 am

I used to have a Youtube channel called "Game Glitcher" and I tried to look up my videos but couldn't find my channel (it's from like 2006 so it's prob lost)

Anyways I found another video on someone elses channel, and I realized that it was my screen capture from all those years ago. (PS, he added the music, this was not my music)

Whom ever made this video stole my content from 2006 lol. How does that even happen?

Do you have any old videos from back in the day? Any memories? Post them here

I'm actually kind of happy about it. I think the channel I made got deleted. It's really old and I know my old runescape channel got deleted for being inactive. Was kind of cool to see some of my old footage still on Youtube. I know it's mine because of the movements and timing.

My old videos are so garbage you wouldn't do any service stealing mine so they're still up.

it was before the monetization came in to play so someone might have taken it as it was not updated and not monetized.

I showed my ex (gf at the time) a video of my friend and I on Chatroullete (edited the dicks out for youtube of course) doing the "What is Love" dance from Night at the Roxbury. She got jealous because I was dancing with girls over a webcam doing a meme, some girls man.... xD
