Are you giving out any vouch copies? I have lots of experience in Python myself (more than 7 years) as it was my first language. Also know quite a lot about mailing systems and spam filters. I could leave you a detailed review.

I'll be willing to give you a vouch copy on Monday if that's okay. I just need to run the last few edits into the code and neaten it all up :)

If you can handle the email blast side of things for me for the first few months, I might have a nice little project (which yields legal income) for you if you are willing to work with me, let me know and I can let you know the details of the project. I've ran them before and made great money, so I know what I'm doing at least. :)

Yes, deffo send me a PM with details. Although a few months is a long time without payment, we might need to work out something there, but sounds good.

Yes of course you can send more than 1 or add BCC.
The idea is though, it runs through a .txt list of emails line by line.

I will message you now.

Would the sale of this type of software be illegal or this type of software completely legal?

are you giving out vouch copies?

onye22 - September 11, 2021, 6:45 pm

i would love to get this software

It really depends what you're using the software for.

If you wanted to use it to mass mail newsletters it would be legal.... or if you wanted to spam blackhat things, it would be illegal...

I am giving out 1 vouch copy yes.
To preferably the highest rated user on here.
