Thread: [\[STORE\] ST Butterfly knife | Tiger Tooth FN - ST Butterfly knife ETC. Lots of skins!](#)

duckyshucky - August 31, 2021, 2:39 am

Post here before adding me on steam, please. I don't accept random invites. Below are some of the things that I have for trade, below that is my Bitskin store for instant sales (everything is purchasable and tradable immediately). All things are negotiable for purchase / trade. I have a couple accounts with a lot of knives, gloves, high end guns both ST and none, especially low float and normal for that wear bracket etc. If you have a request and a realistic price point in mind, let me know here and I'll see if I have access or if I can find it at a reasonable price for you free of charge - I enjoy the process :D.

Scammer note: I'm asking you, please don't try it, don't waste your and infinitely more importantly my time. I've been doing this for a decade and I know all of the methods. If you decide to try it anyway, I record everything and I'll allow you to think that you're getting away with it until I have proof, then make a scam report of you here, pay someone to help me look for you on other forums (I have two people on retainer), then make scam reports and show proof on any website that you frequent on your name and aliases. New accounts and low reputation accounts here don't even bother offering cash payment unless you are prepared to send BTC/ETH and send it before we trade.

Scammer note 2

It was brought to my attention that maybe the above message is a taunt, flex, tease, invite, etc. I'd just like to clear it up really quickly. I want a 100% chill, calm, cool, fun, profitable (for both) non hacking/scamming experience - I'm not taunting, flexing, teasing, inviting, attempting to test anyone

With all of that being said, if you do have a new account and/or not much rep, I'll still work with you if you want to pay first, buy something at my store, or make a trade.

These skins below are all at least 20% below market (up to 45% below) They will go fast. I'm constantly restocking so check back often.

Not here to trash anything, what you're offering looks dope, sadly I have no money.

But you are making a rather silly mistake by threatening to have someone on HF doxed, I highly recommend removing that before someone with more power sees that. Hopefully you only get contacted by genuine people anyway!

Sent you a PM, interested in buying quite a few.

Killmenow,

Its not a flex, I'm not tough shit, or like I know badass super l33t the best badass coders/doxers/researchers or anything like that. I'm not calling anyone out either, I want zero drama, absolutely none. I'm not testing anyone, I'm not teasing anyone, I'm not provoking anyone at ALL! I want the most chill laid back non-scammer experience. Sadly, literally 99% of people who buys/sell/trade CS:GO virtual items are scammers. Literally 9 (or higher) out of 10 people are thieves and have absolutely no problem nor issue with stealing / scamming from me or anyone else if they can get away with it.

Unless you're a thief (I certainly don't think that you are a thief personally - you seem like a really nice guy), nothing that I said should provoke you what-so-ever and its absolutely not my intention to do so even if you are a thief. Something that maybe you're not aware of, just by having a little bit of information about me, my experience, and the fact that I'll intentionally waste a thief's time is enough for almost all of them to avoid me... not because they are scared or anything like that, but because I'm a professional with a lot of experience and scammers/thieves know that there is much lower and easier hanging fruit to grab so I just avoid them and they avoid me, which is exactly what I want. :D

I highly respect your well-worded response and for you taking my comment without getting hurt or arrogant, my point wasn't to make it seem like you're flexing, I generally like the items you have for sale, I'm very into CS skins, and my point about having no money was just purely me actually being broke.

The general point I was trying to make for you is that you state you'll have someone who tries to scam you from here doxed, in which is highly against HF rules and would land you a fat ban or closed account, something none of us want to see on such a genuine and HQ member. My intent was never to seem above you in any sense nor was I claiming you to be un-professional. I understand you may not sincerely mean you would actually have them doxed, but if omni sees such comment, something he certainly wouldn't like to see, I wouldn't expect him to even give you a chance, it is known for people to get a swift close upon just tempering him, and I'm sure you know this as you've been here a long time, much longer than me in fact. Thank you for understanding and glws!

Thanks Man, and thanks for noticing me no tripping out. I can see where someone could if they didn't use their brain. I felt like you were just trying to help me out and I appreciate it. Omni is my online buddy, check out my awards "for old time sake" He gave me that himself. Breaking rules is breaking rules though and I didn't realize it was a rule to be honest - a threat would be a rule break but I didn't feel like that was a threat towards anyone but I can also see how a thief could be offended haha. I'm changing it now. ty again <3

Hi, I'm waiting a response regarding a few skins. Lmk

DamienVC - November 5, 2021, 11:26 pm

Let me know whenever you're back on HF. Interested in your skins and may possibly be able to buy out all of them, or a neat majority of them. Hmu!
