So I came across this channel by pure chance, and I was really positively surprised about it. Just the general anesthetics about the videos, the way the narrator talks, and just the way they explain quite advanced stuff in a simple and interesting way, just awesome.

Wanted to share with you guys. One video is below, but I really recommend watching their other stuff. They have a lot of different interesting subject.

Yeah he's been around for awhile and is pretty well known.

This is one of my favorite episodes:

Lol, I fucking know right. It's just so pleasing. They really know how to make it so interesting. The amount of effort they put in clearly shows.
