Thread: Zombie Apocalypse - What Are You Taking?

Cap - September 7, 2021, 8:49 pm

The year is 2030 and people are turning into zombies. You can only pick one item from each list. What are you taking?

Weapon Options:

Machine gun, samurai sword, lightsaber, RPG, sniper

Gear Options:

Extra ammo, flashlight, binoculars, night vision goggles, radio

Vehicle Options:

Military jeep, ATV, dirt bike, motorboat, monster truck

Foot Attire:

Hiking boots, crocs, sneakers, flip flops, water shoes

Buddy Options:

Taylor Swift, Chris Hemsworth, Shakira, Denzel Washington, Tom Hanks

Miscellaneous Options:

Fishing pole, extra socks, beer/whiskey, shower supplies (soap/shampoo), matches

I-I - September 7, 2021, 8:57 pm

lightsaber - obviously, no ammo needed and never dulls radio - even if it's just 1, you can use it to avoid other people or risk it and try and find them.

military jeep - it's the best option, offers protection, isn't likely to flip. Sadly it's loud and takes a lot of diesel.

boots - just obvious

Taylor Swift - none of the other options are that helpful. I rather go out sticking my dick in some good poon + musical entertainment fishing pole - meh, none of these matter on this one. Can easily find them all.

Guns aren't a wise choice without unlimited ammo. You'll be left helpless until you can resupply, and they're also too loud. A sword would be my second choice, but I will obviously have to go with the self charging futuristic sword instead. Lightsaber wins by far.

Binoculars don't require any power, and can help me scout for safer areas.

Combat boots complete the whole GI Joe look, but I won't be running through sand or a jungle. Sneakers are the most practical option.

You immediately put us in the friend zone or I would've gone with Taylor, or Shakira but I will have to settle with Chris. The guy has a talent for sewing. Someone that can stitch cuts could come in clutch.

My choice ^ I'll explain why;

- Machine gun to kill competitors with (I mean not all humans are immediately zombie - they are "turning" into one)
- Night vision goggles (Go asleep little zombies, I'll be crawling around)
- Military Jeep (It was either this off-road vehicle or a Monster truck to jump over zombies)
- Hiking boots (I'll walk barefoot until I must run or 'hike' (climb) then I'll put on my boots)
- Shakira (Hips don't lie, and my hormones of killing zombies has to be released some way hehe)
- Matches (Either zombies will burn, Shakira and I enjoying a camp fire, or my food will get cooked)

Sounds reasonable, doesn't it?

False King - September 8, 2021, 8:03 am

I'd take a shitload of drugs, whiskey, and a monster truck. I ain't in this to outlive that shit, I'm just going out with a bang.

Shakira got me, amen.

SIM-5033784 - September 8, 2021, 9:16 am

For my weapon I'd take the machine gun. Close combat is inevitable in an apocalypse. I would take the night vision goggles to protect myself at night. I would drive the military jeep. They are armored and harder to break into. It would be a safe place to sleep in. I would wear hiking boots to protect my feet from needles and other hazards on the ground. I'd take Tom Hanks with me but keep a close eye on him :) And finally I'd take beer with me cause God I'm gonna need a drink to cope with a life changing event like this.

bk randy - September 8, 2021, 9:24 am

Sniper
Extra ammo
Monster truck (some can drive on water)
Sneakers (like boots but u can run faster)
Denzel Washington by FAR, he is a motivational speaker and a very committed individual.

Lightsaber, radio, military jeep, hiking boots, Chris Hemsworth, Fishing Pole

The lightsaber would require no ammo and virtually be an instakill, it would also provide light.

The radio so I can try to get in contact with other survivors.

military jeep, because a monster truck would be too impractical, a military jeep would be armored and good for on or off-road. Along with decent storage space.

Hiking boots, because the other options wouldn't be practical or safe in the given situation.

Chris Hemsworth, because I'm aware he has automotive repair skills, he's strong and fast and would be great in a combat situation compared to the other options. Otherwise I'd just take Shakira.

Fishing Pole, because it'd be the most convenient of the other listed items for protein gathering.

Lightsaber, nv goggles, military jeep, sneakers , Denzel Washington, and most likely matches.

Kaiba Corp - October 2, 2021, 1:13 am

It also depends on the type of zombie

I'm going with:

Sword because silent

Binoculars because we'll probably move in the daylight

Military jeep because maneuverability

Gonna pair with Shakira not for survival options but just cause been crushing on her since the whenever wherever song

Add the matches in because making a fire is quite hard.

Oof, those are some hard decisions. I would go with this:

Weapon Options:
lightsaber - better than a sword, and it won't really run out of juice.

Gear Options:
binoculars - I was going to go with radio at first, but if it's an actual zombie apocalypse I wouldn't want to be in a group where people could slow me down.

Vehicle Options:
Military jeep - Because it's the easiest to get around with, and will work in tough conditions.

Foot Attire:
Hiking boots - comon, this is the only logical choice if you want to survive :)

Buddy Options:
Shakira - without a doubt she's the toughest person out of all of them. At least that's what I think.

Miscellaneous Options:
Fishing pole - Another way to easily get some food. Though it depends on where I am at the time of the apocalypse I suppose. Won't do you much good in Vegas.

Pretty much the best options here, although I would've went with the hiking boots rather than the sneakers, hiking boots are basically built for comfort and being worn for long periods of time, I think they're the best option there ;)
