Thread: Website threat me to for a court

dsadasf - September 18, 2021, 8:12 am

I copied some usefss course on the internet that people sell $for 997 and I sell it for $30 in Mega to help people

Anyway, I got latter days a later from lawyer to pay her $10k in 2 weeks otherwise they will consider to go to a court.

My response was: Go to a court. courses was deleted and you won't get a penny from me!

Now I feel like they just threaten in order to make money from people whoever panic. If she send it to 8 website who copied this from her.

might people thnk let's finish it pay her 10k before she's going to a court and we;ll pay 200k.

I don't feel like she's really intend to go to court cus it will costs thousands of dollars and I may not even have real name goddady.

I just use identity in paypal and i don't think Paypal will provide my information to them..

Anyway what would happen from now on in your opinion? Is she just try to cash out noobies? or she is serious and can cause damage?

ThinWhiteDuke - September 18, 2021, 8:22 am

I think she's just trying to cash out noobies but to be safe I would do a complete device clean to any association between yourself and that website

I think too.

If you are doing it to help people why are you selling it? Im sure you did this to make a profit for yourself from someone else's work.

Yes I did it also for me mostly. Selling $997 or 3k a course for $20 is sale good.

Many people people who don't want to spend $997 or 3k on courses and come to me or other sites alike.

there is nothing wrong here to take from the rich and give to the poor.

I don't scam. all the cheap content will make new generation of entrepreneur , people who solved their traumas who can't afford therapy like EMDR.

Besides, you're off the topic. I ask the opinion her action not about her not me.

I sold over 3000 courses think about all the people and how money I saved them

You are literally breaking the law, not to mention a scumbag move to steal other people's intellectual property, Its not off topic I am literally commenting on the whole subject of this post, You stealing someone's work and selling it for your own profit.

If she does take you to court you need to realize it is well deserved.

You hack teens and sell their facebook account and ruin their life. (red flag)

You search for hackers to compromise other sites. (this ok)

You have no reason to complain. hacking other site is somehow ok.

But hacking innocent girls in facebook and possibly ruin their life just to make money. What does it say about you?

I don't even think OP has much of a brain left to be fair. I'm not sure how they think they are robin hood in this situation. Stealing something that has taken others work to do and what they sell it for is up to them but gives no one the right to actually take all that work which they had nothing to do with and make profit off it and try to twist it into "helping" others. It's disgusting and almost laughable that someone can be so obtuse.

you are criminal also an hypocrite..

if i break the law i do it for people not for my cruel intentions. guy like you can easily scam people here and he wouldn't matter.

you are a psychopath.

You do realize what forum you are on, right?

Since I am having a hard time understanding you. This is where I take my leave, but just know that you are in the wrong here and the lawyer has every right to take you to court. IF this is even real, whatever you are talking about. Have a nice day and hopefully you get some help for whatever complex you seem to have with yourself.

I don't write it just to give you back i just shocked what people can do for money and greed. These are some real sociopathic. psychopathic signs.

Should be more regulation in HF to identify such users and ban them because it's obviously that he has no empathy users and he will scam when he gets the chance.

Yeah funny how these kids call people scumbags and they do all these nasty things.

Rompow - September 18, 2021, 6:16 pm

I've received a lot of lawsuit threats over the years, but none have followed through. Granted, I wasn't doing anything illegal, the companies simply disliked having competition. You profiting off of their content might drive them enough to take action even if it costs them more money.

Do yourself a favor, and don't taunt them. Your response was essentially a challenge. I wish you luck.

siddy357 - September 18, 2021, 7:57 pm always try to cash in when you find a new one or the one who panics. For them it is worth a try to make a quick buck.
