Look for automatic transfer bnb to another address, the programming language of the bot is very fast in a second or less than another

Do you want to transfer Binance Coin from your MetaMask to another wallet address?

Do you use some kind of bot and do you need to transfer the profits to that address periodically? Otherwise, I don't get why you mentioned that "the bot is fast". Doesn't that cut into your profits? Not sure how fees are on that.

MetaMask has docs that cover transactions:

In that case, you would need to look up how to make a transaction without manual confirmation. I'm not familiar with MetaMask like that.

I would encourage you to do your own research on it. Seems like you intend to do it with Python.

My initial Google search:
