Don't invest in this it's a SCAM!!! I'm also finding it very odd how you're willing to give this away instead of getting the bytes and your join date to this forum was September this year, the website was registered in May or March of this year and this month on Trustpilot people are reporting that they can't cash out. So either you're the owner or you're getting something out of this because if no one can cash out why are you still sending this method to other users on the forum to be scammed as well? Because that would mean that you can't cash out either and why would someone promote something if they were being scammed too? Just sayin...
